NASSER HITS REPLIES TO KHRUSHCHEV

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The fight between Gamal Abdel Nasser and Nikita Khrushchev was out in the open today after a bitter exchange of words in the struggle for control of Iraq.

The Soviet premier and the president of the United Arab Republic for the first time pulled off the wraps and accused each other of fomenting trouble in the Middle East.

Khrushchev accused Nasser of stirring up trouble in Iraq in an attempt to overthrow the Communist-influenced regime of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem.

He proclaimed the Soviet Union on the side of Kassem and warned Nasser that his new policy of attacking communism was "doomed to failure."

Granting a $50-million - ruble ($137,500,000) loan to Iraq in Moscow, Khrushchev told the representatives of the Kassem regime: "You have selfless and reliable friends who are ready to come to your aid any time you are in trouble."

A "bitter retort" came from Nasser, who until then had confined his attacks on Communists to Arab Reds and had carefully refrained from mentioning Moscow.

Khrushchev and Nasser had clasped hands in hailing the July 14 revolt in Iraq that brought Kassem to power with the assassination of King Faisal and his pro-Western Premier Nuri Said. They joined in "proclaiming the revolution a blow at the West."

The strain between Khrushchev and Nasser is the result of the abortive revolt in Iraq last week of army officers sympathetic to Nasser's talk of pan-Arab unity.

Dad and Two of His Children Die Of Monoxide Gas

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Two children wrote notes to their mother.

Then Gerald Ray Glass kept a log of events of the few minutes preceding the time when he and his children lost consciousness and died of carbon monoxide fumes in the family car.

The notes penciled by Glass said: "It is five minutes to eight. The engine is idling and the motor has been on 10 minutes."

"I am beginning to get sleepy. My heart is speeding up and pumping fast."

"My eyes are droopy but other-wise normal."

"We're talking about God and heaven..."

Sheriff's deputies did not reveal the contents of the children's notes but said the sense of each was that the children agreed with their father's plans for their deaths.

Dep. Coroner James O. Butler ruled that Glass killed his only children—10-year-old Jerry and 8-year-old Arlene, and took his own life Sunday night.

Butler said notes found in the car indicated the 34-year-old aircraft company electrician was despondent. He declined to elaborate.

Filing of Petitions Starts Spirited Primary Campaign

Warren county court house was the scene of considerable activity yesterday as aspirants to county political offices filed petitions with county commissioners. Yesterday's speculation as to who the candidates would be, today turns to the question of who will win nominations at the May 19 primary election.

Five Republicans announced for Warren county commissioner: Blain M. Mead and L. L. Johnson, incumbents; Chris Yutze, Sheffield; Clarence Akeley, Russell and Frank Darrow, Wrightsville. Democrats seeking the post are Lewis Crippen, incumbent; William Martin, Ervine Branch and Mark Summer-son.

Ralph E. Sires, incumbent; Robert Ritchie, L. E. Linder and PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John Patrick O'Grady, naturally had his holiday wish—command of the submarine Salfish. O'Grady chose St. Patrick's day for the event. O'Grady, a lieutenant commander from Norfolk, Va., relieved Lt. Cmdr. Philip C. Hale Jr. who was needed in Washington to help develop the Polaris submarine-based missile.

Woman Is Facing Gas Chamber or Life in Prison

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—A jury that reduced Elizabeth Duncan to tears when it convicted her of buying the murder of her daughter-in-law returns today to decide the punishment.

It has two alternatives—death in the gas chamber, or life imprisonment. But Mrs. Duncan still has a plea of innocent by reason of insanity to be settled before any sentence can take effect.

The 54-year-old defendant, smiling and optimistic when the jury filed in to announce its verdict Monday, took the first-degree murder conviction calmly at first. She turned to her 30-year-old attorney son, who sat at the counsel table beside her with his head bowed.

"Don't worry too much, Frank," she said.

It was Frank's pregnant bride, Olga, 30, whose murder she was convicted of plotting.

Then she was handcuffed and led back to her county jail cell. There her composure cracked.

She broke down and cried. She sobbed repeatedly to her son and her attorney, S. Ward Sullivan: "I can't understand how the jury could do that to me, because I didn't do it."

Two Stalwarts Still Stage Protest Sitdown

BLOOMFIELD, N. J. (AP)—General Electric Co. Monday shut down its plant two weeks early and all the other union demonstrators had gone home. But two stalwarts stuck it out Monday night, carrying on the protest before Friday by a score of self-chained workers.

The company closed out operations Monday because, officials said, the three-day sit-in protest over transfer of air conditioning manufacture to southern plants was making production impossible.

When the day shift of 300 workers showed up Monday, they were greeted by the announcement of immediate shutdown. Still, four of the demonstrators, stayed on.

The rest packed up their tool boxes, work clothes and other belongings and went home. They had originally been scheduled to keep working until April 1 to fill old orders.

Warren Lowe all aspire to Republican nomination as candidate for the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts. Robert Meelen, Democrat, has come out for the same county office.

The sheriff's race brought out four GOP contestants: Donnell Allen, Jr., chief deputy sheriff now; Clayton Rhoades, Conewango township police officer; Pat Ferrie, active with Volunteer Fire department work and Sandy Secor, Sheffield, former chief deputy sheriff. Democrats have chosen John Imperial as a likely candidate for sheriff. Imperial was formerly with the Warren borough police department.

HARRISBURG (AP)—A stalemate built up in the House today on Gov. Lawrence's plan to increase the 3 per cent sales tax to 3½ per cent and extend its coverage to include tradeins and beer and liquor.

It had three facets: The House Democratic majority was up to 10 votes short of what is needed to pass the bill without Republican help.

Republicans refused any help until at least after the first roll call on the 264 million dollar sales tax package.

Gov. Lawrence called in Republican and Democratic lawmakers for another conference to seek agreement on the sales tax and other recommendations of his Tax Advisory Committee.

In contrast to last week's on-again, off-again predictions of compromise, there was only silence on this point Monday. Neither Republican nor Democratic lawmakers were conceding a thing to the governor.

There was one area of agreement. The bill went back to the House Ways and Means Committee Monday, for amendment to retain the form of the sales tax as it is now in effect.

There has been criticism that the House measure would convert Pennsylvania's selective sales tax law into a general sales tax. The selective sales tax lists the specific items that can be taxed and exempts everything else. A general sales tax law would list specific exemptions and tax everything else.

Other legislative developments: Investigation—The Senate Monday night voted to investigate the operations of the Public Welfare Department amid Democratic complaints the probe was "a fishing expedition."

Absentee voting—The Senate received legislation to carry out provisions of a newly approved constitutional amendment authorizing absentee voting by persons who are ill or out of town on business.

Salaries—The House passed legislation to give chief burgesses in boroughs throughout Pennsylvania a 50 per cent wage boost. The bill went to the Senate.

Bonus deadline—The House extended, subject to Senate approval, for two more years the deadline for World War II veterans to apply for a bonus of up to $500. The old deadline expired last Dec. 31.

Budget hearings—A Senate appropriations subcommittee opened hearings on the governor's $1,907,000,000 budget by calling in representatives of the Banking and Insurance Departments.

Some Democrats said privately they believed the three-month extension would work to the advantage of the Kennedy proposal, because it would build up pressure for further congressional action this year. Originally, a one-year extension had been considered. (Turn to Page Twelve)

Boy Murderer Faces Psychiatric Tests

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A psychiatric examination will be given to a 10-year-old boy who orally admitted slaying his mother.

Dist. Atty. Edward C. Boyle of Allegheny County said Monday he will not decide whether Charles Zubryd should be handled by criminal or juvenile courts until the examination is made by the Behavior Clinic.

Boyle said Zubryd admitted Saturday he struck his 41-year-old mother with a hatchet in the basement of their home in Sewickley Twp. on Nov. 20, 1956.

Atty. Louis Glasco of Pittsburgh and Genieve Settino of Ambridge, were retained to represent the boy. He is presently being held at Juvenile Court detention home.

Chicago Has Another Gangland Style Slaying

CHICAGO (AP)—Hyman (Heinie) Wainer, a prohibition era bootlegger who survived gangland shootings and who also escaped death in a bomb blast a year ago, was slain Monday night in a gangland style shooting.

Wainer, 54, an ex-convict and liquor store operator, was shot four times in a parking lot at the rear of 3270 Lake Shore Drive, a plush North Side apartment building.

Police said an unidentified neighbor reported a man about 35 years old ran from the lot after Wainer was killed.

Extension of Jobless Benefits Passes the House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate appeared likely today to join the House in giving quick approval to a three-month extension of emergency jobless benefits.

But action could be delayed by a battle over fixing permanent federal standards which the state-administered programs would have to meet. Congress is planning to recess March 26 for a 10-day Easter holiday.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said his Senate Finance Committee will meet Friday to consider the extension bill. The House passed it Monday with no dissenting votes.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) told a reporter he would urge the Finance Committee to tack onto the bill his proposal to set minimum federal standards.

This will have the support of some Democrats on the committee, it was learned, but they appeared unlikely to succeed in making such changes in the temporary bill.

Some Democrats said privately they believed the three-month extension would work to the advantage of the Kennedy proposal, because it would build up pressure for further congressional action this year. Originally, a one-year extension had been considered. (Turn to Page Twelve)

Solemn Tribute Planned Survivor Of the Civil War

GATE CITY, Va. (AP)—The hill country neighbors who loved him and an army for which he never fought began paying final homage today to John Salling, the next-to-last of the boys in gray.

Salling, 112, died Monday in nearby Kingsport, Tenn., after a short illness. His passing left another Confederate, Walter Williams, 118, of Houston, Tex., the only surviving Civil War veteran.

Salling never saw combat. He never rose above the rank of private in "General Lee's army," with which he proudly identified himself. But he will go to his grave in the full dress uniform of a Confederate general and with full military honors from the Army of the United States.

Today, Wednesday and most of Thursday morning, the body of the frail old rebel will lie in state in a shifting copper casket in the National Guard Armory here, while a 2nd Army honor guard stands watch.

Thousands are expected to file by the casket, draped with a Confederate flag.

Delivers Own Baby While Watching Movie

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. James Smith delivered her own baby while watching an old movie on television in her living room.

"I'm feeling fine," she said Monday, two days after the event. "I plan to have all rest of my children that way."

Mrs. Smith, 38, has three other children, all born in a hospital.

She watched George Raft in "Lucky Nick Cain" throughout her labor while her husband slept in the next room. She woke him by pounding on the wall and presented him with an 8½ pound boy.

Mother and Her Three Children Dead in Blaze

LEBANON, Pa. (AP)—A 30-year-old mother and her three small children smothered to death today when fire in their third-floor apartment here filled their living quarters with smoke.

Fire Chief Del Granger of Lebanon said the husband and a stepson of the woman were not in the frame apartment building when the fire broke out.

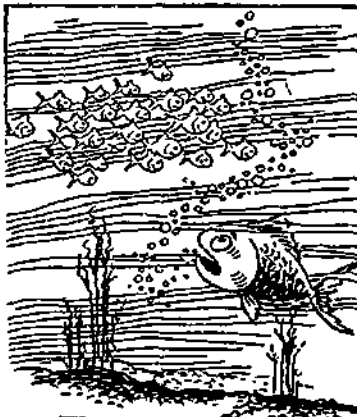

Granger identified the dead as: Mrs. Jeanette L. Hedges and her children: William, 6; Michael, 3; and Dawn, 3 months old.

Granger said a neighbor saw smoke billowing from the apartment and heard the woman and children scream for help. He said firemen were unable to reach the four victims for almost an hour.

He said the four died of suffocation from smoke. The interior of the 2½ room apartment was damaged very little by fire, he said.

Granger told police the woman's husband and father of the three children was at work at the time of the fire. He was identified as William Hedges, 27.

Pittsburgh Firm Awarded Contract for Bond Issue of $3,110,000 for the Project

Warren Area Joint School Board last evening accepted bids for the proposed new Warren Area High school building in the amount of $2,548,488 for general construction, electrical facilities, plumbing, heating and ventilating with the Warren area high school building Authority directing that the Pittsburgh bonding firm of Singer, Dean and Scribner be awarded the contract for a total bond issue of $3,110,000 to finance the tremendous project. An amount of nearly $56,000 already paid in architect's fee is not included in this figure.

Computation of the bond issue, in addition to the aforementioned accepted low bids, shows the following costs: Architect's fees, $96,910; movable fixtures and equipment, $200,000; site and site development, $100,000; printing, $4,000; trustees' fee, $2,200; initial authority expense, $1,500; bond counsel, $9100; local counsel, $9100; cost of financing and contingencies, $138,702. All added together creates the estimated full cost of the new high school to be over three million dollars.

Of the $3,110,000 dollar Authority Bond Sale, $709,000 worth of bonds at par value (98%) have already been spoken for by local individuals, local banks and other banking institutions, leaving $2,401,000 at par value to be handled by a large group of underwriters and the Pittsburgh firm advised that it was planning to spread them to many bonding houses in the country. Figured on a 40-year lease rental basis less administration, a total of $7,396,080 arises, breaking down to lease rental less administration costing $184,902 annually. At a net interest rate of 4.168, figures indicate that total interest for 40-years will be $3,053,400; total principal and interest, $6,163,400. Proper application (Turn to Page Twelve)

Much Business Considered At Joint Committee Meeting

A Joint meeting of Warren Area Joint School Board Joint Committee was held at the close of the Joint Board meeting in the Beatty Cafeteria, last evening. The date for the Teachers' Recognition Dinner was announced for May 7, in the Glade Township Firehall. The President, Mr. Keller, urged all members to attend. Approval was given for 30 hours of instruction for the Russian class. The registration has been closed with 38 people registered and George Henninger is the teacher. The Committee asked the Superintendent to extend congratulations to the wrestling team and Harold Miller, coach. They discussed briefly the mathematics curriculum as it has been operating for the past two years at Beatty and High School and were pleased for it to continue. Mention was also made of the three track plan at Beatty and English and Biology in High School. Kenneth Plimpton was given permission to attend a Geographers Meeting in Pittsburgh, March 29 to April 1. They discussed further the possibility of 185 days for the 1959-60 school term. Because of the lateness of the hour and several Boards wishing additional time for discussion, the matter was tabled. Mr. Passaro was given permission to operate a typing class for High School students interested after school during the present school term. Approval was given to the following: Substitutes employed in the amount of $454.28; Recreation Services in the amount of $70.00; Special Services in the amount of $481.75; and Janitors' Overtime in the amount of $994.65.

The Department of Public Instruction has sent their final approval for the plans for the new High School building. The Committee congratulated the Superintendent on his being asked to be a member of the Visiting Committee at the Penn State University on April 20-21. The Committee will consider their teacher training for industrial arts education. They also considered it an honor that the Superintendent was appointed a member of the twelve-man Advisory Committee to the Department of Public Instruction for Pennsylvania. It was reported that a group of history students from Beatty will make a bus trip to Pittsburgh. The highlights there include the Bicentennial Sky Show at the Buhl Planetarium, Fort Pitt Block House, Sealtest Dairy Company, and Pittsburgh High-

County Directors Hold 56th Annual Session at Lander

Warren County School Directors' Association met for a fifty-sixth annual convention yesterday afternoon and evening at Eisenhower school with a full program of events expertly conducted.

Robert L. Jones, president of the Warren County Board of Education, presided for the afternoon session with The Rev. Wayne B. Ostrander of Cable Hollow EUB church conducting devotions. A report on "1959 School Legislation" was presented by John J. Hertz, associate of Pennsylvania School Directors Association, followed by a discussion period.

"The Why and How of Union School Districts" was ably discussed by Dr. Donald Thomson, supervising principal of the Northwestern Joint School System, Albion with John A. Sleeman, delegate from Clarendon, reviewing the 1959 state convention.

A special film, "Africa, Giant with a Future" was shown after a conducted tour of the building. Dinner was served in the high school cafeteria by the high school faculty, proceeds to benefit the school activity fund. Special music was provided the affair by music students of Eisenhower, school directed by Elbert P. Lyford.

Mrs. Allene Briggs, Warren county Board of Education secretary, presided for the evening session and guests were introduced. Dr. Everett A. Landin, supervising principals of Northern Area Joint Schools, provided the main address of the convention, a report on a recent doctoral study and including "Curriculum Needs in Warren County".

This was the first time in 24 years that the event was not under the guidance of John J. Sheahan, sidelined by illness.

The music of the day from hundreds of bands given places in the parade included such Irish favorites as "Garryowen," "The Wearing of the Green" and "O'Donnell Abu."

Among the musicians was the St. Laurence O'Toole Pipe Band of Dublin, a sight to behold in green kilts with navy blue jackets trimmed in green and white.

The "Fighting 69th," officially the 165th Infantry Regiment of the New York National Guard, had the honor of showing the way along Fifth Avenue for the 108th consecutive year, with its 38-piece band. (Turn to Page Twelve)

The old avenue sported a green traffic stripe. Police worked all night erecting barriers to restrain an estimated million spectators. The parade was expected to last some five hours.

KE'S STAND ON BERLIN IS SUPPORTED

By JOHN SCALI
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressmen of both parties today supported President Eisenhower's renewed vow that "we will not retreat one inch from our duty" in Berlin.

But some Democrats questioned his assertion that the United States now has an adequate and effective military establishment able to deter aggression.

In his radio-TV broadcast Monday night, the President cautiously opened the door to a summertime summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev—provided foreign ministers somehow lay the advance groundwork.

Immediate congressional reaction, however, center on his pledge that the United States would fight rather than yield to the Soviet demand that Allied troops leave West Berlin.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said: "I listened intently to the President's speech. I trust that his judgment of the situation is correct."

The reaction of House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana was typical of Republicans. "The President's speech demonstrates his full realization of the situation and the kind of leadership we need."

Rep. A. S. J. Carnahan of Missouri, a Democratic critic of the President's statements on United States defense, said: "To hear the President say we are in pretty good militarily is, of course, reassuring, but I have some doubt as to whether we are in as strong a position as we should be."

"We can not try to purchase peace for forsaking two million free people of Berlin," the President told the nation.

He charged the Soviet Union has "deliberately created" a war threat to enforce its Berlin demands, and indicated appeasement would be worse than useless.

Whatever comes, he said, the (Turn to Page Twelve)

Report Discloses Threats Against President's Life

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Secret Service is concerned about a man who has threatened several times to kill President Eisenhower.

In a statement for the House Appropriations Committee, the service describes the would-be assassin as a dishonorably discharged serviceman, an alcoholic, a drifter, a prison inmate and a former patient at a mental institution.

The statement, given to the committee in secret session and made public Monday, did not name the man nor indicate where he is now.

The service, which guards the President, told the committee the threats began in 1956. Since then, he served one six-month prison sentence in 1956 for carrying cartridges in Glenwood Springs, Colo., and spent less than a month in a mental institution in 1957 after attempting to telephone a threat to the President in Baltimore.

Specialist Flying To Treat Graham's Eye

LAUNCESTON, Tasmania (AP)—An American eye specialist is flying to Australia Friday to treat evangelist Billy Graham's left eye.

Spokesman Dan Piat said Graham will leave Tasmania Wednesday morning for 10 days rest on the Queensland Gold Coast before opening his New Zealand crusade April 1.

Piat declined to name the eye specialist, but said he would stay with Graham at the expense of an Australian businessman.

Council Approves Purchase Of New 750-Gallon Pumper

At a late afternoon session yesterday, Borough Council took the last step in complete modernization of the local fire department by authorizing the expenditure of $20,990 for a 750-gallon America LaFrance pumper.

The purchase of the new piece of equipment completes compliance with recommendations made some time ago by the fire underwriters, the program having been set up on a pay-as-you-go basis.

At the same time Council cleared the road for disposing of the final piece of antiquated equipment by authorizing the public safety committee to take bids on the 1934 model GMC pumper as soon as the new pumper is delivered and passes the performance tests.

That Warren will be on the same time as most of the other eastern communities was assured as the borough was instructed to issue a day-light saving proclamation. Fast time will take effect at 2 a. m. April 26 and continue until the same hour on October 25. Early action was requested by the county commissioners so they could proceed with the printing of legal notices as to the hours the polling places will be open on primary election day, May 19.

Chief Complanter Post American Legion, was granted permission to use War Memorial Field for the annual Easter egg hunt on Saturday, March 28.

Borough Manager Gerasimos reported on the meeting of Council's temporary flood committee with the Chamber of Commerce last week, and President Laskaris stated that at the April session he would appoint a permanent flood committee to act in concert with the Chamber of Commerce or any other agencies requesting its collaboration. He said he was inclined to place on this committee councilmen from the wards which were in the flood's path as he felt they were best able to understand the situation. These would be the Fourth, Eighth, Seventh and First (which now includes the former Second).

The borough manager stated the three principal aims of the meeting:

1. To establish an Allegheny River Reservoir Association, made up of Warren and down-river towns to publicize the need of early construction of the Dam and to take other steps to expedite it.

2. To stage a meeting with representatives of the Seneca Nation to plead for the cessation of their legal roadblocks in the interests of the towns periodically ravaged by floods.

3. To meet with Secretary of Forests and Waters Giddard in Harrisburg to assure the department of this community's support of the commonwealth's desire to need the federal government into beginning construction.

As councilmen hurried home to late dinners, the public safety committee, burgess and chief of police were huddling with the borough manager and the solicitor on recently suggested parking changes, discussed at the regular March meeting a week ago.

Kittanning Lions Club Sponsoring District Roundup

The Lions Club of Kittanning will be the Host Club for the District Governor's Rally of the Lions of District 14-J on Tuesday, May 12. Lion James Wales of Templeton, a member of the Kittanning Lions and its immediate past president, is completing his term of office as District Governor and the Rally is being held in his honor.

Plans include a gala parade in the afternoon, a chicken barbecue dinner and a program of entertainment for the Lions in the evening. Many bands of the area have indicated their desire to participate in the parade and a large number of floats and marching units are anticipated from the member clubs. Lion's International Third Vice-President Per Stahl of Eskutuna, Sweden, will be the principal speaker for the evening program. Lion Stahl is one of Lionism's outstanding speakers, is making his first appearance in the District and will bring a message of exceptional merit to the over 800 Lions expected to attend. A second outstanding feature of the evening's entertainment will be a program of music presented by one of Western Pennsylvania's outstanding men's choruses, the Butler Elk's Chorus.

District 14-J is made up of 65 clubs in Armstrong, Cameron, Clarion, Clearfield, Elk, Forest, Indiana, Jefferson, McKean, and Warren counties. Over 2400 men are members of these clubs and it is expected that every club in 14-J will be represented at the Rally.

Little Opposition on Ballot for High Court

HARRISBURG (AP) — Justice Thomas D. McBride today provided the only opposition to organization-backed Democratic and Republican candidates for state Supreme Court.

He filed on both tickets in opposition to Judge Michael J. Eagen of Lackawanna County for the Democratic nomination and Superior Court Judge Blair F. Gunther, Pittsburgh, for the GOP nomination.

Eagen and Gunther submitted their nomination petitions Monday, the last day to do so. McBride, a Democrat, also will run on the GOP ticket.

A candidate for judge is the only one allowed under Pennsylvania law to file on both tickets. The $30,000-a-year seat on the high court will be filled for a 21-year term this year. McBride is serving an interim appointment he received last year from former George M. Leader after the death of Justice John C. Arnold, Clearfield.

Warren Rotarians Sponsor 50th Anniversary Program

As part of its Golden Jubilee celebration of Rotary International's 50th anniversary, Warren Rotary Club was host last evening in the YWCA activities building for an inter-city meeting of Kane, Sheffield and Marienville Rotarians and Rotary-Anns, with wives of local members as special guests.

Distinguished guests were Herman Offner, governor of District 728, and Mrs. Offner, from Edinboro; and the speaker, Miss Barbara Weaver, who was a Rotary Foundation Fellowship recipient for study in France and is now a French instructor in Titusville schools.

Miss Weaver shared her "menu" of Foundation Fellowship experiences in a unique and charming fashion, giving her listeners an interesting insight into modes of life of the French people.

An entertaining program of music and dialogue was presented by Mrs. Everett Borg and her accompanist, Miss Linnea Scott, to add variety to an enjoyable evening.

Among other topics presented, Governor Offner spoke of arrangements for the District conference in Sharon on April 24, 25 and 26, urging all Rotarians and their ladies to be in attendance.

In addition to visiting members and their wives, student guests for the evening were Gail Wymann and Linda Elliott, of Warren High School, introduced by Jack Lesser.

George Konkol announced another inter-city event, which will take the form of a Warren Olympics and will include all three Warren service clubs on May 5.

Warren Rotarians were also reminded by President Frank Perrin that next week's meeting will include participation in the community-wide Holy Week services in First Baptist church, 12:10 to 12:50, followed by the usual luncheon in the YWCA activities building.

Mr. Offner concluded the program by reading an editorial which recently appeared in the Times-Mirror concerning the Distinguished Service Award presented to Rotary International for its Foundation Fellowship Program.

Warren Camera Club's Color Division will hold its regular session at 8:00 this evening at the home of R. E. Sires, 6 Second avenue. Subject of slides to be submitted for judging is "Fall Scenes".

New Bill Would Grant Clergymen Legal Immunity

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill in House committee today would grant to clergymen legal immunity to refuse to divulge confidential information in judicial proceedings.

Reps. Stephen McCann (D-Greene), James Musto (D-Luzerne), Harris G. Breth (D-Clearfield) and John H. Devlin (D-Allegheny) co-sponsored the proposal.

McCann said researchers uncovered the fact that clergymen lacked this immunity while investigating the law in reference to an earlier House bill extending to radio and television newsmen the right to withhold the name of confidential news sources.

Another new House bill would change the names of the 14 state teachers colleges, by designating them simply as state colleges. In addition, Indiana State Teachers College would become Western Pennsylvania State University.

Reps. William A. Steckel (R-Lehigh), Van D. Yetter Jr. (D-Monroe), Gus Yalton (D-Berks) and William G. Buchanan (R-Indiana) were the sponsors.

Senate Committee To Probe Welfare Dep't

HARRISBURG (AP) — A five-member Senate committee will open a probe of the state Department of Public Welfare early next month.

"We want to look into every aspect of the department's operations," declared Sen. Albert R. Pechan (R-Armstrong), committee chairman.

The Senate named the committee Monday after approving on a voice vote a resolution calling for the probe. The measure was sponsored by Pechan and Sen. Frank Koppriver (R-Allegheny).

Named to the committee with Pechan were Sens. Raymond P. Shafer (R-Crawford), John T. Van Sant (R-Lehigh), Israel Shiefel (D-Phila.), and Fred B. Rooney (D-Northampton).

Proclamation
By the Governor

Whereas, the earliest form of advertising relative to our great American press in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was found in the American Weekly Mercury of Philadelphia in 1719; and

Whereas, this medium of small, concise bartering of neighborly goods has grown with our Keystone prosperity; and

Whereas, they are of great service to our nearly eleven million populace from the pages of one hundred and twenty-five daily and two hundred and eighty-five weekly and semi-weekly newspapers in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for buying, selling, trading, renting, and

Whereas, their influence is rightly considered to be of importance to the welfare of our people;

Now, therefore, I, David L. Lawrence, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do hereby proclaim the week of March 15 through March 22, 1959, as WANT AD WEEK in Pennsylvania.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE,

we tuned in on a station: Nothing but killing. So we turned to a second: As it came on, two men were shot down. We tried the third—only to find that the program had more murder. We turned off the set.

Comment: The box score on New York stations one night recently was five killed, eight wounded.

From Mrs. Parker Boggs of Loyall, Ky., urging that some good TV programs be re-run on week-day mornings. Two she specifically mentions are Edward R. Murrow's "Small World" and "Person to Person."

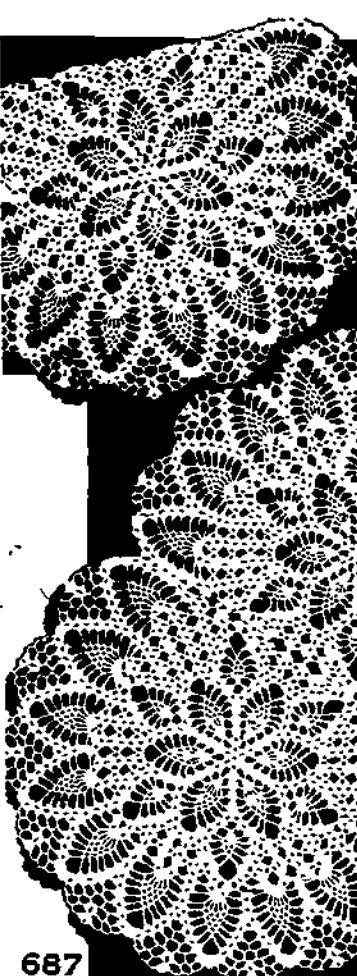

Comment: I agree it's a good idea. But the problem in all TV re-runs is basically economic. After clearances and payments of residual rights, a re-run is almost as expensive as an original show in many cases.

New Books at Library

Announcement of 47 "Notable Books", of 1958 has been received by the Warren Public Library, according to Librarian, Mrs. Georgia Coyle. This list, which includes seven novels, was compiled by a special 12 member Notable Books Council of the Adult Services Division of the American Library Association.

The Warren Public Library has most of the books on the list, and several of the titles are on order, the Librarian said. However, Mrs. Coyle pointed out, books which are not available at the local library can be obtained through the State Library in Harrisburg.

The "Notable Books" were chosen for literary excellence, factual correctness, sincerity and honesty of presentation, or skill in presenting specialized knowledge for the general reader, according to Miss Clytie Strahler, of the Dayton and Montgomery County (Ohio) Public Library, chairman of the council. The group made their selection after a year of reading and thoughtful weighing and comparing, assisted by 33 participating libraries which also made suggestions.

Books on the list include the following:

Epitaph for Dixie—Ashmore. Americans—Boorstin.

Rivers, Man and Myths—Brittain.

Breakfast at Tiffany's—Capote.

Great Democracies—Churchill.

ON THE JOB:

Prompt action by Montana highway patrolmen and the Great Falls Red Cross blood center were instrumental in helping to save two lives at Fort Harrison VA Hospital in Helena. The hospital needed, in a hurry, for one of its seriously ill patients, more blood than it had on hand. By the time the 8 units of blood were delivered by relays of highway patrolmen, blood of the same group was needed for a second patient about to undergo emergency surgery. The one delivered proved to be enough to help the two patients live.

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

When you are pretty sure that your partner has bid a four card suit you try to avoid raising him with only three trumps but North could find no better bid than two spades.

As for his raise to four spades the only favorable thing that can be said about it is that it was no worse than South's bid of three.

East cashed two heart tricks and led the eight of clubs. A trump shift would have beaten the hand but East did not want to lead from the queen.

From this point on South justified his overbid. He won that club, cashed dummy's two high diamonds and ruffed a third club with dummy's ten of trumps.

At this point East could not beat the hand. Actually he overruled and led a trump. South won in his own hand, ruffed another club with dummy's king of trumps, got back to his hand by ruffing a diamond, drew trumps and made the last trick with his fifth club.

When South ruffed with dummy's ten of spades East had several lines of defense. It should be of considerable interest to you readers to study them and see how South could reply to each one.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

North East South West

2 ♣ You South hold:

♠ 10 8 7 5 4 3 2 ♦ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

What do you do?

A—If your partner will re-open a specialized bid then you should bid three hearts to show your heart suit with no ace or other high cards.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner opens with two diamonds and the next player overcalls two hearts.

You South, hold:

♠ 10 8 7 5 4 3 2 ♦ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

What do you do?

PROTEINS Work the MAGIC in Floress

You see, proteins are the substances that build tissue and repair broken cells. Your hair is protein in composition and that is why the protein ingredients in FLORESS help hair to hold curls and waves, to repair and restore life and body to damaged, dry, brittle hair. If you are tired of home permanents, damaging solutions and neutralizers—if you want to protein-condition and protein wave and curl your hair—all you need is FLORESS. The protein content in FLORESS adds thickness to dry, wispy hair and helps to balance oily or normal hair, regardless of texture.

What's More—Your Hair will be Completely Re-Conditioned Without any of that Dried-Out, Lifeless Look So Discouraging after The Usual Home Permanent.

Amazing FLORESS puts back the life and lustre ordinary permanents have been taking out of your hair these many years. FLORESS reconditions dry, damaged hair, rejuvenates beautifully as expensive hot oil treatments. Glamourizes... makes hair shine and sparkle with cleanliness without any dulling film. Prove it to yourself, right in your own home, how hair can be beautiful with natural-looking soft curls and waves without harsh permanenting.

What do we mean by Ford "DOUBLE VALUE"?

1. It can mean the beginning of a whole new way of life... in a car especially built for people!

Everywhere, the 59 Ford is recognized as the World's Most Beautifully Proportioned Car. Yet many people are just now discovering that Ford is beautifully proportioned inside as well as out.

2. All of your passengers—including the "man in the middle" get a full-cushioned ride, full head room—full leg room.

Every seat has full-depth springing and cushioning in a Ford. And all seats are high enough so you and all your passengers sit normally, ride comfortably!

3. You and everyone who rides with you can keep hats on... can enter and leave with ease.

Ford door openings are extra wide. And front doors stay open when you want them to, thanks to Ford's exclusive 2-stage door checks.

4. You get a full-sized roof which shades all passengers from the sun. You get a full-sized, easy-to-reach trunk, too!

Everyone has a roof over his head in a Ford. And there's no need to stand on tiptoe to load Ford's trunk!

5. It can mean tremendous savings—right from the start. Because Ford is built for savings, too!

Check the price tag, you'll see Ford is priced lowest of the most popular three. And the low Ford price is just the beginning of Ford savings.

6. You can expect to save as much as $1 on every tank of gas... go more miles between oil changes!

Whether you choose a Six or Thunderbird V-8, both standard Ford engines thrive on "regular" gas—saving you up to a dollar a tankful. And with Ford's standard full-flow oil filtration, you save on oil changes, too!

7. You can forget about waxing the Diamond Lustre Finish. It'll never need it!

While many cars offer finishes which need waxing frequently, Ford's brand-new Diamond Lustre brings you a true no-wax finish.

8. And you can expect Ford's new aluminum muffler to last twice as long!

Why not get the full Ford savings story this week. Once you do—and hear our double-value deal—we bet you, too, will want to join the big swing to the 59 Ford.

So start getting double the value today in

OIL INDUSTRY CENTENNIAL DAY

Press dispatches over the weekend carried the information that Congressman L. E. Gavin, of this district, has introduced a joint resolution in the House of Representatives which would authorize and request the President to designate August 27, 1959, as "Oil Industry Centennial Day."

Realizing the manner in which our representative in Washington maps out a program to assure success of such a project it is safe to predict that he will realize fulfillment of his hopes.

August 27, 1959, he says, marks the 100th anniversary of the first oil well drilled in America—the Colonel Drake Well near Titusville. An historic event that ushered in a new era of progress of mankind and started the world's standard of living on its rise to unprecedented heights.

Mr. Gavin reminds that Americans can take pride in the fact that a fellow American, Colonel Edwin L. Drake, gave the world its first successful method for the mass production of oil and established one of the world's greatest industries.

The Congressman, in a letter to the Times-Mirror, says he hopes that favorable action would be taken on the Joint Resolution by the House and Senate so this memorable date in our history will receive recognition.

RED CROSS DISASTER RELIEF

In connection with the present Red Cross Fund Drive it is interesting to note the Warren Chapter has announced that, due to the recent flood, they have assisted ten families and have fed 75 persons at Red Cross shelters. The total expenditure on disaster assistance in Warren was $1,107.29.

The assistance provided to disaster victims ranges from the mass care given to the homeless and hungry, available to all who seek help, to the long difficult task of postdisaster recovery for those who lack the resources to get back to their feet unaided. The Red Cross, acting for the American people, rebuilds homes, replaces occupational equipment, sees that basic needs for furnishings and other essential articles are met, and accepts the responsibility for medical and nursing care that is often required by the seriously injured.

These services are provided without charge. Nothing is sold by Red Cross either during the emergency period or during the post-disaster rehabilitation program.

The Red Cross "helps you when you need it most and enables you to help your neighbors when they need it most."

Says an editorial paragraph in The Titusville Herald: "Two Warren groups have suggested having a pow-wow with the Seneca Indians about problems of the Kinzua Dam. How! Snokum peace pipe?"

WASHINGTON (AP)—The one thing President Eisenhower didn't explain to the nation Monday night is what ideas this country has to offer the Soviet Union to avoid a showdown and perhaps war over Berlin.

He used his nationwide broadcast to restate positions he has already publicly explained — on Berlin and American defenses — but he threw in this: That this country does have new ideas to offer the USSR.

He didn't say what they are. Possibly the Western Allies are not yet fully agreed on what to propose. They may achieve such agreement after British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan confers here this week with the President.

These were the familiar, but main, bases Eisenhower touched: 1. He assured the country—despite Democratic criticism that his economy drive will jeopardize American defenses in the future—that those defenses not only are adequate now but will remain so. 2. He explained why this country is involved in Berlin: That wartime agreements not only give the Allies the right to keep troops in West Berlin but guarantee them free passage of supplies for the troops through Communist East Germany.

3. He repeated what he has said before: This country won't yield to Soviet demands that the Allies get out of Berlin; and it won't recognize the right of the East Germans to stop supplies for the Allied garrisons in Berlin.

Since Berlin is 110 miles inside East Germany, any Allied supplies for the city must pass over East German territory. In the air, by road, or by rail Eisenhower led up to the mention of new ideas this way:

First, he ruled out any yielding to Soviet demands or threats about Berlin because of obligations to the two million West Berliners, because of principles and agreements involved, and because it would weaken America's world leadership.

Second, he acknowledged that any yielding position might mean war, suggested that war would be even more likely if the United States backed up, and said that if war came the Soviets would be to blame. So, he was still unyielding.

Third, he pointed to negotiations with the Soviets as the one way to avoid a military showdown. Speaking of negotiations, he said: "We are willing to listen to new ideas and are prepared to present others."

Right there he got off the subject of new ideas leaving the word and Premier Nikita Khrushchev to guess what he had in mind.

It must be remembered that Khrushchev has a tremendous stake in the Berlin outcome, too. If the Allies don't back down, and he has to retreat to avoid war, he has suffered a major defeat.

But since Eisenhower refuses to budge on Berlin, or as he says, be a party to any permanent division of Germany, it's hard to see what new ideas he could offer that would satisfy Khrushchev, at least on Berlin.

Previously, Eisenhower had brushed off any thought of a summit meeting with Khrushchev unless first, through a meeting of foreign ministers, there was some reason to think a summit met. (Turn to Page Seven)

"You Took the Words Right Out of My Mouth"

Here and There

Couple Associated Press dispatches from our Honolulu correspondent that came over our special leased wire during the weekend that make interesting reading follow: One of them says: "Now about that trip you're planning to Hawaii: You can use American money here, and speak American too. Don't use pidgin English on the cab driver as some tourists do. He may be a college graduate. But if you want to use some Hawaiian words—the alphabet has only 12 letters—here are some of the handier ones: Aloha—Welcome, goodbye. I love. Aloha nui loa—Great big welcome, great big goodbye, great big love. Wahine—Woman; Mahalo—Thank you; Kau kau—Food; Poi—Hawaiian mush made of pounded taro root and water; Luau—Feast; No hulu—Don't get excited, don't worry, no sweat; Kane—man; Mahini—Newcomer; Kamaalana—Old timer; Hiki no—Can do; Aole hiki—No can do; Aloha ua ja oe—I love you; Okole maluna—Bottoms up; Hele aku oe—Go away, beat it; Honi Kaua wikipiki—Kiss me quick.

The other has to do with meanings of some of the Hawaiian words. It says: If you're a pure-blooded Hawaiian you can pronounce it hah VY-ee. Almost everyone else pronounces it hahWY-ee. Scholars of Polynesian lore agree that Polynesians used it to mean homeland. Some other facts about Hawaii: Capital: Honolulu. Area: 6,407 square miles—Eight islands combined. Population: 555,000 plus 60,000 U.S. military personnel.

The state wire also carried a story about an old friend on the Oil City Derrick, of more than timely interest, due to the fact that political campaigns are beginning to warm up across the state. It says: "Telegraph Editor James A. Rich, of the Oil City Derrick, will seek renomination to city council as a Republican, not as a Democrat. Four years ago he was elected as the first Democratic councilman in forty years. Now he says: 'the cold facts of politics are that neither I nor any other city or county Democrat will be elected to office this year in Venango county.' Rich has been for strict economy in city government. This was not possible, he said, with a Democrat heading city hall."

American Legion State Commander Paul E. Walters "expects to display a 50-star American Flag at the forthcoming Department Convention in Pittsburgh during July. 'We were informed unofficially by several Congressmen that we could expect approval of Hawaii statehood by Easter,' he said. This, of course, means an additional star in the blue field of 'Old Glory.' We were lead to believe, also, that a parallel plan is being considered to provide July 4 as the official date for first public use of the 50-star Flag, which in turn, would make the new 49-star American Flag an obsolete object—except for souvenir purposes—on the date it was to be officially born.' Commander Walters said he had advised American Legion Posts throughout Pennsylvania 'to use discretion in any hasty purchase of 49-star Flags in quantity,' although Department Headquarters here, were taking orders and filling a few requests for the Alaskan-star Flag. 'Legion officials have been watching the progress of Hawaii statehood bills in Congress this year, and we believe our informants have advised us correctly, as usual.'

NEW YORK (AP)—Huge family fun centers are abuilding across the nation today to greet the hordes of touring Americans this summer.

They are joining the older forms of such entertainment—the more than 400 traditional amusement parks and the 5,000 small kiddie lands.

Attendance at these two amusement types is estimated to be more than 500 million a year.

The new family recreation centers are hoping to attract from one million to four million visitors a year each, depending on length of their operating seasons.

Patterned in scope after Southern California's Disneyland, each of the new areas now open or rising emphasizes features to stimulate or restore some of the exciting and memorable aspects of local, regional and sometimes national historic lore.

They range in area from 80 to more than 100 acres, with initial investment of from 3 to 10 million dollars.

Included in the new group are fun centers near Boston, Denver, Dallas and Santa Monica, Calif. Here is what this sampling of the movement will offer:

A four million dollar Pleasure Island will open this summer on 80 acres at Wakefield, near Boston, and will stress yesteryear in New England.

Already open near Santa Monica is Pacific Ocean Park. The 10 million dollar development on 28 acres is devoted to a wide variety of marine themes.

The Dallas recreation center is built around the theme: Texas undenied flags. Its rides, shows and exhibits will cover the long history of the once largest state.

SUMMER ECHO EPIDEMICS

Several epidemics of meningitis and summer gripe have occurred in Europe and North America during the last five years. In the spring and summer of 1957, for example, there were 40,000 cases in the Milwaukee area and 200,000 around Minneapolis-St. Paul. The cause turned out to be the ECHO viruses. There is a good possibility that we will hear more about these organisms in the summers to follow.

ECHO viruses are common inhabitants of the human intestinal tract. There are 20 different types and the majority are capable of producing a wide range of human infections varying from a cold to aseptic meningitis.

The micro-organisms were given the strange scientific name, enteric cytopathogenic human orphan, because they did not behave like other viruses. These agents were considered harmless when discovered and did not produce diseases in any of the usual laboratory animals. The viruses were labeled orphans because at first their relationship to disease was unknown.

Aseptic meningitis is the most serious condition the ECHO viruses produce. It starts abruptly with fever, severe headache, and vomiting. Shortly thereafter, the back and extremities begin aching, the neck becomes stiff, and light hurts the eyes.

This is followed by a rash that resembles mild measles and extends over the face, neck, trunk, and extremities. The disease lasts two to five days and complete recovery is the rule. Aseptic meningitis and non-paralytic polio are so much alike, laboratory tests are needed to tell them apart.

There is no treatment or preventive at this time. Other ECHO viruses lead to diseases that resemble the common cold or summer diarrhea. Type 16, for example, causes an illness with chills and fever, muscle aching, and crampy abdominal pain. Two or three days later, the victim blossoms out into a blotchy red rash. Recovery can be expected in 48 to 72 hours.

A STUDENT DISEASE

S. R. writes: My young niece is home sick with what the doctor calls college disease. It is said to last from two weeks to six months. Would you know what this disorder is?

REPLY

My guess would be infectious mononucleosis, because this disease is more common in college students than in other age groups. It is a generalized infection and leads to sore throat, fever, weakness, and swollen glands.

HIS FACE IS RED

D. L. writes: My wife always can tell when I stop for a few beers on the way home because my face turns red. This doesn't happen to my friends. Why should I be red-faced?

REPLY

Some husbands can't get away with anything. Everyone reacts differently to drugs because some are more sensitive than others. Alcohol dilates the blood vessels. Apparently this occurs sooner in you and is more marked than in your friends.

ANEMIC

T. P. writes: Will you kindly explain low blood?

REPLY

For a while it was tired blood; now, it is low. Anemia is the word when the number of blood cells and/or the percentage of iron are low. Causes vary from hemorrhage or a diet low in blood building substances, to body processes that destroy the cells faster than they can be manufactured.

APPETITE AND WEIGHTS

A. M. C. writes: I have taken up weight lifting to stimulate my appetite but it hasn't helped. What would you suggest to stimulate a desire to eat?

REPLY

Try out-of-door exercise, and if that doesn't help, ask your doctor for a tonic or one of the new anabolic agents.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★

Picking Dulles Replacement Popular Capital Occupation

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Principal indoor occupation in Washington these nights is trying to dope out who would make the best secretary of state to succeed John Foster Dulles.

There are no new names involved. And anyway it's worked, it always ends up with some guesser finding something wrong with every name drawn from the hat. It goes like this:

UNDERSECRETARY of State Christian A. Herter—The man first in line for the job. Dulles' own choice as his top assistant. Experienced both as a politician and a diplomat. But not considered as forceful as Dulles and not a creator of new ideas, which are needed. Afflicted with arthritis which at times is a serious handicap on a job that requires long hours and full powers of concentration.

Undersecretary Douglas Dillon—He has come up fast in the past year. Increasingly effective in making and carrying out foreign economic policy. He is younger, which is considered an asset. But his experience is largely in business. He was U.S. ambassador to France for four years. But he is untied in international negotiations of the type coming up to settle the Berlin crisis.

Deputy Undersecretary Robert Murphy—A skilled career diplomat. He has been in the State Department throughout the Eisenhower administration as chief political officer. He is an experienced trouble shooter. Approaching retirement age, he might end his career with an appointment that would make him the first foreign service officer to be named a cabinet secretary. But such an appointment would not find favor with GOP politicians who want a Republican.

A FEW DEMOCRATIC NAMES get tossed into this game, like deuces wild. The principal argument is that a Democrat secretary of state would unite the country behind a nonpartisan foreign policy in time of crisis.

Ex-Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois—He has devoted considerable time to the study of foreign affairs in the last six years and for a time was a State Department consultant. He has ideas. But people who know the governor well fear that he lacks decisiveness and doubt if he could work well with President Eisenhower, whom he criticized severely in the 1952 and 1956 campaigns.

Ex-Gov. Averell Harriman of New York—Out of a job now and looking for something to do. But he is considered too opinionated and his ideas could never be brought into harmony with President Eisenhower's.

Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman J. William Fulbright of Arkansas—He might want to be secretary of state under a Democratic president, but not for a short term under a Republican.

THERE'S ANOTHER possibility in ambassador to the United Nations Henry Cabot Lodge. He's another younger man with plenty of vigor. He has been dealing with the Russians at U.N. for six years and is more experienced at this than any other candidate. As an ex-senator he has political background. But his abilities as an originator of policy are questioned.

At the end of the game, when the list of other unacceptable candidates has been exhausted, somebody always comes up with the thought, "Well, they might try a woman and what's the matter with Clare Boothe Luce?"

That breaks up the party.

Elementary Principals of County Hold Informative March Session

The March meeting of Warren County Elementary Principals' Association was held at Russell, with William Goldsmith, principal of Russell School, as host.

Following devotions, Archie Hunter, president of the association, welcomed Dr. Everett A. Landin, supervising principal of Northern Area Joint School, as guest. He responded with interesting remarks on the compensations of advanced study in education.

During the business session, it was voted unanimously the association purchase at each meeting next year, a book on professional growth, to be placed in the office of the county superintendent of schools, with those already donated by individual members.

Discussion followed concerning plans for more books to be added by the members, one each, if possible, also for book reviews to be given by members of the association as a part of the Professional Growth Program.

Robert Hockenberry, assistant county superintendent of schools, announced the next session of Institute will be held at 8:00 p. m. April 13 in the large court room of Warren county court house; also that the curriculum steering committee will meet at Youngsville High School April 2.

Mr. Hockenberry spoke about achievement testing in schools and asked Richard Hess, supervisor of special education, to explain in greater detail the procedure in administering them.

Mr. Hess emphasized the importance of the correlation of exact timing, mental ability, chronological age and IQ results, together with the consideration of each child's social adjustments in determining grade levels. He suggested each administrator create a relaxed atmosphere previous to testing by group singing, games, story, etc.

Following Mr. Hess's talk, Mr. Hunter appointed Helena Isenman, Lois Lilly and Laura Demming to serve on the nominating committee, and announced the next session will be the annual dinner-meeting in April, place and date to be announced later.

A musical program was presented by students of Eisenhower School, including vocal numbers by a sextet composed of Connie Gage, Sandra Taylor, Martha Taylor, Bonnie Eckdahl, Sharon Atkins, Carol Fehlman, with Connie Lohmes as piano accompanist; a piano solo—Revolutionary Etude by Chopin, Carol Fehlman, clarinet trio—Peggy Stanton, James Carlson, Connie Lohmes.

In conclusion, refreshments were served by the host.

Comedy by Junior Class

The junior class of the Brookston Valley Joint Schools has chosen March 19-20 as production dates for the class play, "Tomboy Wonder", a comedy in three acts. In the accompanying picture, by Stokes Studio, a group of cast members put finishing touches to one of the scenes.

Performances will be at 8:00 o'clock both evenings, in White Memorial Auditorium, and tickets may be had from any junior class member or at the door on play nights.

Nancy Halfast is student director; Robert Sutton is general chairman in charge of finances. George Wollaston, class advisor is in charge of committees working to make this one of the finest YHS junior class plays ever presented.

Clarendon Troop Has Dinner and Program

The annual twelve dinner of Clarendon Girl Scout Troop 39 was held at the home of their leader, Mrs. Betty Putnam, assisted by Mrs. Margaret Rasmussen and Mrs. Eleanor Mauck, who provided the lovely centerpiece.

The table was attractively decorated with a four-tier cake, topped with a miniature Girl Scout and troop numeral and carried out in green and yellow, with the girls adding their own original ideas in individual favors.

The blessing was said by Ella Mae Chapel. Following dinner the Investiture Service was held for the following Brownies: Fly Ups, Barbara Bullock, Vickie Mauck, Susan Shaver, Rosemary Albogast, Patty Loddell, Ella Mae Chapel, Patty Walker, Mrs. Eleanor Mauck was taken in as a committee member. They sang "Children's March" and "White Coral Bells", "My Creed" was given by Eileen Waldeck. "What It Means To Be A Girl Scout", Barbara Green.

Year pins and second class badges were awarded to Sandra Rasmussen, Eileen Waldeck, Barbara Green and Nancy Wilbur. Closing exercise was a Friendship Circle.

Also in observance of Girl Scout Week, the troop attended the recent style show, with Sandra Rasmussen, Barbara Greer and Nancy Wilbur participating.

The troop also attended services with their leaders on Girl Scout Sunday, at respective churches.

GR CLASS

Geraldine Brooks and Mildred Baldensperger are hostesses when GR Class of Epworth Methodist church meets at 8:00 p. m. Thursday in the church social rooms. Members are asked to note the change in date because, due to Holy Thursday, the meeting will be held one week earlier.

WWSW MEETING

WWSW of Salem EUB church will meet at 8:00 p. m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Florence Soderburg, Clarendon RD 1, when devotional leader will be Mrs. Francis Fehlman on the topic "His Dominion Shall be from Sea to Sea". Hostesses will be Mrs. Hattie Rustau and Mrs. Fred Rosentator.

JOHN STEWART GARDEN CLUB SPEAKER

Spring will arrive a few days early as far as Warren Garden Club members are concerned. When they meet at the YVCA activities building Thursday, John Stewart, of Yule Tree Farms at Akeley, will be on hand to discuss evergreens and flowering shrubs. He will bring several cuttings and specimens with him, and talk about their specific requirements.

Mr. Stewart is well known throughout the area as a very patient and helpful friend of all gardeners, and since this is the time of year when everyone is thinking about improvements to lawns and shrubs, planting new varieties, and garden planning, the general public is invited to attend this meeting. All Garden Club members are requested to bring a friend or neighbor who might be interested in having healthier, more abundant plant life around Warren.

Refreshments will be served by the committee.

LACY SCOUTS ENJOY PARTY

Lacy Girl Scout Neighborhood Club sponsored a delightful Girl Scout Birthday Party in Beaty auditorium, with 130 Scouts and Brownies in attendance. For the program, Patty Hagerman read a story on Girl Scouts, and Gil Reiers showed pictures of beautiful parks and playgrounds. Refreshments followed the program, and concluded the very enjoyable affair.

During the business session, it was voted unanimously the association purchase, at each meeting next year, a book on professional growth, to be placed in the office of the county superintendent of schools, with those already donated by individual members.

Discussion followed concerning plans for more books to be added by the members, one each, if possible; also for book reviews to be given by members of the association as a part of the Professional Growth Program.

Robert Hockenberry, assistant county superintendent of schools, announced the next session of the Institute will be held at 8:00 p. m. April 13 in the large court room of Warren county court house; also that the curriculum steering committee will meet at Youngsville High School April 2.

Mr. Hockenberry spoke about achievement testing in schools and asked Richard Hess, supervisor of special education, to explain in greater detail the procedure in administering them.

Mr. Hess emphasized the importance of the correlation of exact timing, mental ability, chronological age and IQ results, together with the consideration of each child's social adjustments in determining grade levels. He suggested each administrator create a relaxed atmosphere previous to testing by group singing, games, story, etc.

Following Mr. Hess's talk, Mr. Hunter appointed Helena Iseman, Lois Lilly and Laura Demming to serve on the nominating committee; and announced the next session will be the annual dinner-meeting in April, place and date to be announced later.

A musical program was presented by students of Eisenhower School, including vocal numbers by a sextet composed of Connie Gage, Sandra Taylor, Martha Taylor, Bonnie Eckdahl, Sharon Atkins, Carol Fehlman, with Connie Lohmes as piano accompanist; a piano solo—Revolutionary Etude by Chopin, Carol Fehlman; clarinet trio—Peggy Stanton, James Carlson, Connie Lohmes.

In conclusion, refreshments were served by the host.

Comedy by Junior Class

The junior class of the Brook- enstraw Valley Joint Schools has chosen March 19-20 as production dates for the class play, "Tomboy Wonder", a comedy in three acts. In the accompanying picture, by Stokes Studio, a group of cast members put finishing touches to one of the scenes.

Performances will be at 8:00 o'clock both evenings, in White Memorial Auditorium, and tickets may be had from any junior class member or at the door on play nights.

Nancy Halfast is student director; Robert Sutton is general chairman in charge of finances. George Wollaston, class advisor, is in charge of committees working to make this one of the finest YHS junior class plays ever presented.

Clarendon Troop Has Dinner and Program

The annual tureen dinner of Clarendon Girl Scout Troop 39 was held at the home of their leader, Mrs. Betty Putnam, assisted by Mrs. Margaret Rasmussen and Mrs. Eleanor Mauck, who provided the lovely centerpiece.

The table was attractively decorated with a four-tier cake, topped with a miniature Girl Scout and troop numeral, and carried out in green and yellow, with the girls adding their own original ideas in individual favors.

The blessing was said by Ella Mae Chapel. Following dinner, the Investiture Service was held for the following Brownies: Fly Ups, Barbara Bullock, Vickie Mauck, Susan Shaver, Rosemary Arbogast, Patty Lobdell, Ella Mae Chapel, Patty Walker, Mrs. Eleanor Mauck was taken in as a committee member. They sang "Children's Ball" and "White Coral Bells". "My Creed" was given by Eileen Waldeck; "What It Means To Be A Girl Scout", Barbara Greer.

Year pins and second class badges were awarded to Sandra Rasmussen, Eileen Waldeck, Barbara Green and Nancy Wilbur. Closing exercise was a Friendship Circle.

Also, in observance of Girl Scout Week, the troop attended the recent style show, with Sandra Rasmussen, Barbara Greer and Nancy Wilbur participating. The troop also attended services with their leaders on Girl Scout Sunday, at respective churches.

GR CLASS
Geraldine Brooks and Mildred Baldensperger are hostesses when GR Class of Epworth Methodist church meets at 8:00 p. m. Thursday in the church social rooms. Members are asked to note the change in date because, due to Holy Thursday, the meeting will be held one week earlier.

WWSW MEETING
WWSW of Salem EUB church will meet at 8:00 p. m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Florence Soderburg, Clarendon RD 1, when devotional leader will be Mrs. Francis Fehlmah on the topic, "His Dominion Shall be from Sea to Sea." Hostesses will be Mrs. Hattie Ristau and Mrs. Fred Rosentrator.

JOHN STEWART GARDEN CLUB SPEAKER
Spring will arrive a few days early as far as Warren Garden Club members are concerned. When they meet at the YWCA activities building Thursday, John Stewart of Yule Tree Farms at Akeley, will be on hand to discuss evergreens and flowering shrubs. He will bring several cuttings and specimens with him, and talk about their specific requirements.

Mr. Stewart is well known throughout the area as a very patient and helpful friend of all gardeners, and since this is the time of year when everyone is thinking about improvements to lawns and shrubs, planting new varieties, and garden planning, the general public is invited to attend this meeting. All Garden Club members are requested to bring a friend or neighbor who might be interested in having healthier, more abundant plant life around Warren.

Refreshments will be served by the committee.

LACY SCOUTS ENJOY PARTY
Lacy Girl Scout Neighborhood Club sponsored a delightful Girl Scout Birthday Party in Beaty auditorium, with 130 Scouts and Brownies in attendance. For the program, Patty Hagerman read a story on Girl Scouts, and Gil Reiere showed pictures of bor- ough parks and playgrounds. Refreshments followed the program, and concluded the very enjoyable affair.

OIL INDUSTRY CENTENNIAL DAY
Press dispatches over the weekend carried the information that Congressman L. E. Gavin, of this district, has introduced a joint resolution in the House of Representatives which would authorize and request the President to designate August 27, 1959, as "Oil Industry Centennial Day."
Realizing the manner in which our representative in Washington maps out a program to assure success of such a project it is safe to predict that he will realize fulfillment of his hopes.
August 27, 1959, he says, marks the 100th anniversary of the first oil well drilled in America—the Colonel Drake Well near Titusville. An historic event that ushered in a new era of progress of mankind and started the world's standard of living on its rise to unprecedented heights.
Mr. Gavin reminds that Americans can take pride in the fact that a fellow American, Colonel Edwin L. Drake, gave the world its first successful method for the mass production of oil and established one of the world's greatest industries.
The Congressman, in a letter to the Times-Mirror, says he hopes that favorable action would be taken on the Joint Resolution by the House and Senate so this memorable date in our history will receive recognition.

RED CROSS DISASTER RELIEF
In connection with the present Red Cross Fund Drive it is interesting to note the Warren Chapter has announced that, due to the recent flood, they have assisted ten families and have fed 75 persons at Red Cross shelters. The total expenditure on disaster assistance in Warren was $1,107.29.
The assistance provided to disaster victims ranges from the mass care given to the homeless and hungry, available to all who seek help, to the long difficult task of postdisaster recovery for those who lack the resources to get back to their feet unaided. The Red Cross, acting for the American people, rebuilds homes, replaces occupational equipment, sees that basic needs for furnishings and other essential articles are met, and accepts the responsibility for medical and nursing care that is often required by the seriously injured.
These services are provided without charge. Nothing is sold by Red Cross either during the emergency period or during the post-disaster rehabilitation program.
The Red Cross "helps you when you need it most and enables you to help your neighbors when they need it most."

Says an editorial paragraph in The Titusville Herald: "Two Warren groups have suggested having a pow-wow with the Seneca Indians about problems of the Kinzua Dam. How! Snokum peace pipe?"

WORLD TODAY
By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—The one thing President Eisenhower didn't explain to the nation Monday night is what ideas this country has to offer the Soviet Union to avoid a showdown and perhaps war over Berlin.
He used his nationwide broadcast to restate positions he has already publicly explained—on Berlin and American defenses—but he threw in this: That this country does have new ideas to offer the U.S.S.R.
He didn't say what they are. Possibly the Western Allies are not yet fully agreed on what to propose. They may achieve such agreement after British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan confers here this week with the President.
These were the familiar, but main, bases Eisenhower touched on.
1. He assured the country—despite Democratic criticism that his economy drive will jeopardize American defenses in the future—that those defenses not only are adequate now but will remain so.
2. He explained why this country is involved in Berlin: that wartime agreements not only give the Allies the right to keep troops in West Berlin but guarantee them free passage of supplies for the troops through Communist East Germany.
3. He repeated what he has said before: This country won't yield to Soviet demands that the Allies get out of Berlin; and it won't recognize the right of the East Germans to stop supplies for the Allied garrisons in Berlin.
Since Berlin is 110 miles inside East Germany, any Allied supplies for the city must pass over East German territory. In the air,

"You Took the Words Right Out of My Mouth"
Couple Associated Press dispatches from our Honolulu correspondent that came over our special leased wire during the weekend that make interesting reading follow: One of them says: "Now about that trip you're planning to Hawaii: You can use American money here, and speak American too. Don't use pidgin English on the cab driver as some tourists do. He may be a college graduate. But if you want to use some Hawaiian words—the alphabet has only 12 letters—here are some of the harder ones: Aloah—Welcome, goodbye, love. Aloha nui loa—Great big welcome, great big goodbye, great big love. Wahine—Woman; Mahalo—Thank you; Kau kau—Food; Poi—Hawaiian mush made of pounded taro root and water; Luau—Feast; No hulu—Don't get excited, don't worry. No sweat; Kane—man; Mahimu—Newcomer; Kamaaina—Old-timer; Hiki no—Can do; Aole hiki—No can do; Aloha au ia oe—I love you; Okole maluna—Bottoms up; Hele aku oe—Go away, beat it; Honi Kaua wikiwiki—Kiss me quick.
The other has to do with meanings of some of the Hawaiian words. It says: If you're a pure-blooded Hawaiian you can pronounce it hah VY-ee. Almost everyone else pronounces it hahWY-ee. Scholars of Polynesian lore agree that Polynesians used it to mean homeland. Some other facts about Hawaii: Capital: Honolulu. Area: 6,407 square miles. Eight islands combined. Population: 585,000 plus 60,000 U. S. military personnel.
Another interesting dispatch, come from Washington and pertains to Congressman Carroll D. Kearns, well known in Warren, a veteran of 15 years in the House of Representatives, who has announced that the recent furor over nepotism has prompted him to introduce a resolution calling for a thorough, objective study of all aspects of the employment problem on Capitol Hill. Under the provisions of the Congressman's resolution, a select committee of seven members of the House of Representatives would be appointed by Speaker Sam Rayburn, with one of the seven designated as chairman. Any vacancy occurring in the membership of the committee would be filled in the same manner in which the original appointment was made. The committee would be authorized and directed to conduct a full and complete investigation to determine the desirability and feasibility of establishing the allowances to members for clerk hire, stationery, postage, telephone and telegraph on the basis of the relative work loads placed upon the various Congressional offices of the members. Some of the factors to be taken into consideration in making these determinations would be the population of the Congressional district, the diversity of industry and occupation, the proximity of the district to Washington, and any other factors that the committee might deem relevant. This committee would report to the House as soon as practicable during the present Congress the results of its investigation and study, together with such recommendations as it deems advisable. The Congressman believes that such a study is long overdue and would be in the public interest.
The state wire also carried a story about an old friend on the Oil City Derrick, of more than timely interest, due to the fact that political campaigns are beginning to warm up across the state. It says: "Telegraph Editor James A. Rich, of the Oil City Derrick, will seek renomination to city council as a Republican, not as a Democrat. Four years ago he was elected as the first Democratic

Councilman in forty years. Now he says: 'the cold facts of politics are that neither I nor any other city or county Democrat will be elected to office this year in Venango county.' Rich has been for strict economy in city government. This was not possible, he said, 'with a Democrat heading city hall.'
American Legion State Commander Paul E. Walters "expects to display a 50-star American Flag at the forthcoming Department Convention in Pittsburgh during July. 'We were informed unofficially by several Congressmen that we could expect approval of Hawaii's statehood by Easter,' he said. This, of course, means an additional star in the blue field of 'Old Glory'. We were lead to believe, also, that a parallel plan is being considered to provide July 4 as the official date for first public use of the 50-star Flag, which in turn, would make the new 49-star American Flag an obsolete object—except for souvenir purposes—on the date it was to be officially born'. Commander Walters said he had advised American Legion Posts throughout Pennsylvania "to use discretion in any hasty purchase of 49-star Flags in quantity," although Department Headquarters here, were taking orders and filling a few requests for the Alaskan-star Flag. "Legion officials have been watching the progress of Hawaii statehood bills in Congress this year, and we believe our informants have advised us correctly, as usual."

NEW YORK (AP)—Huge family fun centers are abuilding across the nation today to greet the hordes of touring Americans this summer.
They are joining the older forms of state entertainment—the more than 400 traditional amusement parks and the 5,000 small kiddie lands.
Attendance at these two amusement types is estimated to be more than 500 million a year.
The new family recreation centers are hoping to attract from one million to four million visitors a year each, depending on length of their operating seasons.
Patterned in scope after Southern California's Disneyland, each of the new areas now open or rising emphasizes features to stimulate or restore some of the exciting and memorable aspects of local, regional and sometimes national historic lore.
They range in area from 80 to more than 100 acres, with initial investment of from 3 to 10 million dollars.
Included in the new group are fun centers near Boston, Denver, Dallas and Santa Monica, Calif. Here is what this sampling of the movement will offer:
A four million dollar Pleasure Island will open this summer on 80 acres at Wakefield, near Boston, and will stress yesteryear in New England.
Already open near Santa Monica is Pacific Ocean Park. The 10 million dollar development on 28 acres is devoted to a wide variety of marine themes.
The Dallas recreation center is built around the theme: Texas under six flags. Its rides, shows and exhibits will cover the long history of the once largest state.

Daily Lenten Meditations
From the Upper Room
Read Philippians 2:5-11.
I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you. (John 13:15)
Jesus was never concerned about His own position among men. He could take the lowest place as well as the highest. He could come into Jerusalem in triumph. With no feeling that it was inappropriate. He could wash the feet of those who should have been serving Him.
Christ came to give mankind a better understanding of God and to direct persons to Him. He was ready to take any place, small or great, to do any work, menial or otherwise, to lead men to God.
He was even ready, after only three years of preaching and teaching, to allow men to kill Him as a necessary part of the task of leading mankind to God. He commended His disciples to His Father, and was ready to leave His cause to their care.
Jesus' aim was not to put Himself in a high place, but to lead men to give God the highest place. If we would have the mind of Christ, we must give God the highest place in our lives, and strive to do His will.
PRAYER
O God, our King, help us so fully to enter into the mind of Christ, that we may forget ourselves, our pride, and our ambitions. May the petition, "Thy Kingdom come," represent the deep desire of our hearts. Grant that our lives, our words, and our aspirations may all be such that they will point others to Thee, as did Christ, in whose name we pray. Amen.

SUMMER ECHO EPIDEMICS
Several epidemics of meningitis, and summer gripe have occurred in Europe and North America during the last five years. In the spring and summer of 1957, for example, there were 40,000 cases in the Milwaukee area and 200,000 around Minneapolis-St. Paul. The cause turned out to be the ECHO viruses. There is a good possibility that we will hear more about these organisms in the summers to follow.
ECHO viruses are common inhabitants of the human intestinal tract. There are 20 different types and the majority are capable of producing a wide range of human infections varying from a cold to aseptic meningitis.
The micro-organisms were given the strange scientific name, enteric cytopathogenic human orphan, because they did not behave like other viruses. These agents were considered harmless when discovered and did not produce diseases in any of the usual laboratory animals. The viruses were labeled orphans because at first their relationship to disease was unknown.
Aseptic meningitis is the most serious condition the ECHO viruses produce. It starts abruptly with fever, severe headache, and vomiting. Shortly thereafter, the back and extremities begin aching, the neck becomes stiff, and light hurts the eyes.
This is followed by a rash that resembles mild measles and extends over the face, neck, trunk, and extremities. The disease lasts two to five days and complete recovery is the rule. Aseptic meningitis and non-paralytic polio are so much alike, laboratory tests are needed to tell them apart.
There is no treatment or preventive at this time. Other ECHO viruses lead to diseases that resemble the common cold or summer diarrhea. Type 16, for example, causes an illness with chills and fever, muscle aching, and crampy abdominal pain. Two or three days later, the victim blossoms out into a blotchy red rash. Recovery can be expected in 48 to 72 hours.
A STUDENT DISEASE
S. R. writes: My young niece is home sick with what the doctor calls college disease. It is said to last from two weeks to six months. Would you know what this disorder is?
REPLY
My guess would be infectious mononucleosis, because this disease is more common in college students than in other age groups. It is a generalized infection and leads to sore throat, fever, weakness, and swollen glands.

T. P. writes: Will you kindly explain low blood?
REPLY
For a while it was tired blood; now, it is low. Anemia is the word when the number of blood cells and/or the percentage of iron are low. Causes vary from hemorrhage or a diet low in blood building substances, to body processes that destroy the cells faster than they can be manufactured.
APPETITE AND WEIGHTS
A. M. C. writes: I have taken up weight lifting to stimulate my appetite but it hasn't helped. What would you suggest to stimulate a desire to eat?
REPLY
Try out-of-door exercise, and if that doesn't help, ask your doctor for a tonic or one of the new anabolic agents.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★
Picking Dulles Replacement
Popular Capital Occupation
BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Principal indoor occupation in Washington these nights is trying to dope out who would make the best secretary of state to succeed John Foster Dulles.
There are no new names involved. And anyway it's worked, it always ends up with some guesster finding something wrong with every name drawn from the hat. It goes like this:
UNDERSECRETARY of State Christian A. Herter—The man first in line for the job. Dulles' own choice as his top assistant. Experienced both as a politician and a diplomat. But not considered as forceful as Dulles and not a creator of new ideas, which are needed. Afflicted with arthritis which at times is a serious handicap on a job that requires long hours and full powers of concentration.
Undersecretary Douglas Dillon—He has come up fast in the past year. Increasingly effective in making and carrying out foreign economic policy. He is younger, which is considered an asset. But his experience is largely in business. He was U.S. ambassador to France for four years. But he is untried in international negotiations of the type coming up to settle the Berlin crisis.
Deputy Undersecretary Robert Murphy—A skilled career diplomat. He has been in the State Department throughout the Eisenhower administration as chief political officer. He is an experienced trouble shooter. Approaching retirement age, he might end his career with an appointment that would make him the first foreign service officer to be named a cabinet secretary. But such an appointment would not find favor with GOP politicians who want a Republican.
A FEW DEMOCRATIC NAMES get tossed into this game, like deuces wild. The principal argument is that a Democratic secretary of state would unite the country behind a nonpartisan foreign policy in time of crisis.
Ex-Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois—He has devoted considerable time to the study of foreign affairs in the last six years and for a time was a State Department consultant. He has ideas. But people who know the governor well fear that he lacks decisiveness and doubt if he could work well with President Eisenhower, whom he criticized severely in the 1952 and 1956 campaigns.
Ex-Gov. Averell Harriman of New York—Out of a job now and looking for something to do. But he is considered too opinionated and his ideas could never be brought into harmony with President Eisenhower's.
Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman J. William Fulbright of Arkansas—He might want to be secretary of state under a Democratic president, but not for a short term under a Republican.
THERE'S ANOTHER possibility in ambassador to the United Nations Henry Cabot Lodge. He's another younger man with plenty of vigor. He has been dealing with the Russians at U.N. for six years and is more experienced at this than any other candidate. As an ex-senator he has political background. But his abilities as an originator of policy are questioned.
At the end of the game, when the list of other unacceptable candidates has been exhausted, somebody always comes up with the thought, "Well, they might try a woman and what's the matter with Clare Boothe Luce?"
That breaks up the party.

Elementary Principals of County Hold Informative March Session

The March meeting of Warren County Elementary Principals' Association was held at Russell, with William Goldsmith, principal of Russell School, as host.

Following devotions, Archie Hunter, president of the association, welcomed Dr. Everett A. Landin, supervising principal of Northern Area Joint School, as guest. He responded with interesting remarks on the compensations of advanced study in education.

During the business session, it was voted unanimously the association purchase, at each meeting next year, a book on professional growth, to be placed in the office of the county superintendent of schools, with those already donated by individual members.

Discussion followed concerning plans for more books to be added by the members, one each, if possible; also for book reviews to be given by members of the association as a part of the Professional Growth Program.

Robert Hockenberry, assistant county superintendent of schools, announced the next session of the Institute will be held at 8:00 p. m. April 13 in the large court room of Warren county court house; also that the curriculum steering committee will meet at Youngsville High School April 2.

Mr. Hockenberry spoke about achievement testing in schools and asked Richard Hess, supervisor of special education, to explain in greater detail the procedure in administering them.

Mr. Hess emphasized the importance of the correlation of exact timing, mental ability, chronological age and IQ results, together with the consideration of each child's social adjustments in determining grade levels. He suggested each administrator create a relaxed atmosphere previous to testing by group singing, games, story, etc.

Following Mr. Hess's talk, Mr. Hunter appointed Helena Iseman, Lois Lilly and Laura Demming to serve on the nominating committee; and announced the next session will be the annual dinner-meeting in April, place and date to be announced later.

A musical program was presented by students of Eisenhower School, including vocal numbers by a sextet composed of Connie Gage, Sandra Taylor, Martha Taylor, Bonnie Eckdahl, Sharon Atkins, Carol Fehlman, with Connie Lohnes as piano accompanist; a piano solo—Revolutionary Etude by Chopin, Carol Fehlman; clarinet trio—Peggy Stanton, James Carlson, Connie Lohnes.

In conclusion, refreshments were served by the host.

CHARLES BENEDICTS HAVE ANNIVERSARY

COLE HILL—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benedict celebrated their 31st wedding anniversary Sunday evening at their home on Ross Hill, with refreshments a feature of the event. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Benedict and family, Youngsville; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Benedict and son, Hugh, of Jamestown; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Saxton, Tionesta. Allen Benedict, who has a birthday March 23, shared in the honors.

Other guests at the Benedict home have been Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Camp and daughter, Judy, of Clymer, N. Y.; Richard Smolk, Findley Lake; Laverne Benedict and children, Nancy and David, Cole Hill.

STUDENT NURSES RECEIVE CAPS

Barbara Berlin, Joan Smith and Judy Whiteshot were among 56 student nurses to receive caps at an impressive ceremony held Friday evening in Allegheny General Hospital, Pittsburgh.

The girls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Berlin, Jackson Run road; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Smith, 16 Jefferson street, and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Whiteshot, 469 Prospect street, attended the ceremony with the girls' respective brothers and sisters.

All three student nurses were 1958 Warren High school graduates.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

The Warren General Hospital Auxiliary will have a sewing session Friday afternoon at 1:20 in the hospital library.

Comedy by Junior Class

The junior class of the Brokenstraw Valley Joint Schools has chosen March 19-20 as production dates for the class play, "Tomboy Wonder", a comedy in three acts. In the accompanying picture, by Stokes Studio, a group of cast members put finishing touches to one of the scenes.

Performances will be at 8:00 o'clock both evenings, in White Memorial Auditorium, and tickets may be had from any junior class member or at the door on play nights.

Nancy Halfast is student director; Robert Sutton is general chairman in charge of finances. George Wollaston, class advisor, is in charge of committees working to make this one of the finest YHS junior class plays ever presented.

Clarendon Troop Has Dinner and Program

The annual tureen dinner of Clarendon Girl Scout Troop 39 was held at the home of their leader, Mrs. Betty Putnam, assisted by Mrs. Margaret Rasmussen and Mrs. Eleanor Mauck, who provided the lovely centerpiece.

The table was attractively decorated with a four-tier cake, topped with a miniature Girl Scout and troop numeral, and carried out in green and yellow, with the girls adding their own original ideas in individual favors.

The blessing was said by Ella Mae Chapel. Following dinner, the Investiture Service was held for the following Brownies: Fly Ups, Barbara Bullock, Vickie Mauck, Susan Shaver, Rosemary Arbogast, Patty Lobdell, Ella Mae Chapel, Patty Walker, Mrs. Eleanor Mauck was taken in as a committee member. They sang "Children's March" and "White Coral Bells". "My Creed" was given by Eileen Waldeck; "What It Means To Be A Girl Scout", Barbara Greer.

Year pins and second class badges were awarded to Sandra Rasmussen, Eileen Waldeck, Barbara Green and Nancy Wilbur. Closing exercise was a Friendship Circle.

Also, in observance of Girl Scout Week, the troop attended the recent style show, with Sandra Rasmussen, Barbara Greer and Nancy Wilbur participating.

The troop also attended services with their leaders on Girl Scout Sunday, at respective churches.

GR CLASS

Geraldine Brooks and Mildred Baldensperger are hostesses when GR Class of Epworth Methodist church meets at 8:00 p. m. Thursday in the church social rooms. Members are asked to note the change in date because, due to Holy Thursday, the meeting will be held one week earlier.

WSWS MEETING

WSWS of Salem EUB church will meet at 8:00 p. m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Florence Soderberg, Clarendon RD 1, when devotional leader will be Mrs. Francis Fehlman on the topic, "His Dominion Shall be from Sea to Sea." Hostesses will be Mrs. Hattie Ristau and Mrs. Fred Rosentrator.

JOHN STEWART GARDEN CLUB SPEAKER

Spring will arrive a few days early as far as Warren Garden Club members are concerned. When they meet at the YWCA activities building Thursday, John Stewart, of Yule Tree Farms at Akeley, will be on hand to discuss evergreens and flowering shrubs. He will bring several cuttings and specimens with him, and talk about their specific requirements.

Mr. Stewart is well known throughout the area as a very patient and helpful friend of all gardeners, and since this is the time of year when everyone is thinking about improvements to lawns and shrubs, planting new varieties, and garden planning, the general public is invited to attend this meeting. All Garden Club members are requested to bring a friend or neighbor who might be interested in having healthier, more abundant plant life around Warren.

Refreshments will be served by the committee.

LACY SCOUTS ENJOY PARTY

Lacy Girl Scout Neighborhood Club sponsored a delightful Girl Scout Birthday Party in Beaty auditorium, with 130 Scouts and Brownies in attendance. For the program, Patty Hagerman read a story on Girl Scouts, and Gil Reiers showed pictures of borrough parks and playgrounds. Refreshments followed the program, and concluded the very enjoyable affair.

John Zavinski Directs an Unusual Murder for Players' Third Show

John Zavinski, director for "A Murder Has Been Arranged," is receiving deserved commendation for his part in production of the Warren Players' show for March.

Veteran players and those new to Players' stage are given a hand for lines well learned and diction that was very good. Several excellent characterizations were noted, among them Paul Myers, in the role of Sir Charles Jasper, host for dinner on the stage of St. James' Theatre in London and murder victim; and Valerie Goldfarb, who played the Jaspers' housekeeper, Mrs. Wragg.

A very good performance was turned in by Edna Swanson, mother of the beautiful Beatrice, wife of Sir Charles. Maurice Mullins, only near blood relative of Sir Charles, a real scoundrel, and the murderer, was well done by Abe Halpern. Nancy Flick was well received as Beatrice; Joan Kondak as Miss Groze, secretary to the murdered man and confidante of the murderer.

Lesser roles were ably done by Ralph Odell as Cavendish, the orchestra director; Harry Goldfarb as a reporter, Harry North; and Betty Halpern, a dumb woman appearing from the street and found dead in the corridor.

Sir Charles' dinner party, given for members of his family, was in observance of a weird anniversary and fulfillment of a prophecy more than 50 years old. The usual mystery regarding identity of the murderer was missing from this show, since Sir Charles was poisoned and the murder committed in full view of an audience that had been prepared in advance for its commission.

What the audience did not know, and learned in a dramatic ending, was that the murderer's evil machinations were finally to catch up with him and he was to lose his mind at the sight of Sir Charles' ghost sitting calmly at the dinner table and proving Mullins the scoundrel everyone had known him to be all along.

As indicated, the play's setting was the stage of an old and familiar theatre in London, and both staging and costuming were a credit to Lois Byham and her production staff.

This Emlyn Williams "Murder" was the third show of Players' 1958-59 season, the final curtain of the season to come down in May, when Betty Rice presents "The Desk Set." She will announce tryouts shortly, and reminds that all interested in reading for parts will be welcome.

WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR

Members of the Woman's Club with their escorts are looking forward to a dinner party Saturday evening at 7:00. The affair will include previewing a movie filmed by C. J. Cray during a recent trip abroad. Those who have seen pictures of other picturesque tours taken by Mr. and Mrs. Cray know well the treat in store.

Dinner reservations must be made no later than Thursday noon and members may phone 410.

LUTHERAN NOTES

Wednesday — 2:30, annual Lenten Tea, sponsored by women of Saron church in Youngsville, with the usual program. Everyone is welcome.

Change in date—Berea Luther League will be entertained at Wrightsville Community church at 8:00 p. m. Friday March 27, when Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Faust, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Young, will serve as hosts.

FOOD FAIR WILL BENEFIT ART SHOW

It is learned from Mrs. B. W. Knapp, general chairman for the Woman's Club Food Fair on Thursday that a part of the proceeds from this event will be used to finance the annual Art Talent Recognition Show which the club sponsors each May.

Club members are contributing tasty casseroles and other baked goods of all kinds, breads and rolls, using their favorite recipes, and there will be some especially fine cheeses available to fair patrons from 12:00 until 4:00 p. m.

USHERS' CLUB SUPPER MOST SUCCESSFUL

Through the cooperation of the Altar Society and the Parent-Teacher, the spaghetti supper sponsored by the Ushers' Club proved a highly successful event. The delicious menu was prepared and served under the supervision of Mrs. Angeline Tridico, with her committee, the ushers and their wives. The Ushers' Club has asked the Times-Mirror to extend its appreciation to all who helped in any way to make successful this first special project.

WEST REVIEW

West Review No. 4, WBA, will meet Thursday for a social afternoon in S. F. of A. rooms, with dinner to be served at 6:00 p. m. The regular business meeting will follow at 8:00 p. m.

REBEKAH LODGE

A good turnout is asked for the meeting of Lady Warren Rebekah Lodge at 8:00 p. m. Friday in the IOOF Hall. A social time, with refreshments, will follow the regular lodge session.

WEEKLY MARCONI BRIDGE TOURNAMENT

Eight tables were in play last night for the weekly tournament of Marconi Bridge Club, with an average of 84 in both fields of play. Top-scoring pairs were recorded as follows:

North-South — Mrs. Helen Rockwell and Harry Kopf, Jr., 104; Joseph A. Scallise and M. A. Kornreich, 95; Mrs. Jessie Sandrock and Mrs. Fred Weigle, 93; Mrs. Carl Hultberg and Mrs. Richard Wolfe, 81; Mrs. Shuri Glass and James Monaghan, 78½.

East-West — Dr. R. H. Israel and James R. Valone, 105; Morgan Beverly, Corry, and D. L. Vetter, 89½; Mrs. J. A. Bevevino and Henry Hunzinger, 88½; Ange Scallise and Mrs. James Valone, 87; Dr. and Mrs. James Sues, 78½.

The local club is making arrangements for the first regular NY-Penn Unit game April 5, when members will be host at Marconi Outing Club to players assembled from throughout the area.

Sylvania Report Reveals Number New Records Set

NEW YORK—Sylvania Electric Products Inc. reported today that wages, salaries, and non-wage labor costs totaled more than $151,000,000 in 1958, setting a new record in the 57-year history of the company.

A review of the company's 1958 operations is contained in the annual report, which now is being mailed to share owners of General Telephone & Electronics Corporation. The merger of Sylvania into General Telephone Corporation became effective March 5. Sylvania is continuing to operate as a separate company, wholly-owned by General Telephone & Electronics Corporation.

In the report, Chairman Don G. Mitchell and President Robert E. Lewis pointed out that 97.5 per cent of Sylvania's 1958 sales revenue went for materials, manufacturing, selling and administrative expenses; new machinery; taxes, interest, and for wages, salaries, and non-wage labor costs. The largest single component of this total, 45.3 per cent, was for wages, salaries, and non-wage labor costs. The total of four separate expense items—materials, manufacturing, selling and administrative costs—was 45.1 per cent of the total. Taxes, exclusive of social security taxes, took 3.1 per cent of the sales dollar; depreciation amounted to 2.9 per cent, and interest was 1.1 per cent.

The 2.5 per cent remaining of each sales dollar was net income, about 89 per cent of which was distributed to share owners as dividends, with the balance being reinvested in the business.

Sylvania's net sales last year totaled $333,255,732, a decrease of 3 per cent under the $342,957,061 reported in 1957. Net income in 1958 was $8,373,370, compared with $12,655,839 a year earlier.

Sylvania's operations in 1958, Messrs. Mitchell and Lewis reported, reflected two widely different economic situations "which should be considered separately from the standpoint of their effects upon the company's sales and earnings." They pointed out that the general business recession, which started in 1957 and extended well into 1958, caused a sharp decline in Sylvania's sales and earnings in the first half of last year, but that the upturn in the final six months "brought a substantial improvement in the company's total business and operating results."

More than $77 million, or 23 per cent of total sales in 1958, represented National Defense business, which increased 20 per cent over 1957, including some of the country's most advanced research, development, and production projects.

ABC of Income Tax Report

Paying your income tax II: Long or short form?

Editor's note — In preparing your federal income tax return, you may have the option—depending on your income—of which form to use. But it's important that you pick the right one, as this second of five articles on income tax questions makes plain.

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Which form to use in making your 1958 income tax return? The small punchcard 1040A or the longer, four-page 1040?

Most people, because they fit the requirements and it's easy, will use 1040A. Some of them, for special reasons, will prefer 1040. The rest must use 1040.

Remember: A very important change since last year permits more people to use 1040A.

Last year only those with less than $5,000 income could use it. This year people with up to $10,000 income can use 1040A.

You can use 1040A only if you fit this rule:

If your income was under $10,000 and tax was withheld from all of it except for no more than $200 in interest, dividends or wages. If that doesn't apply to you, you must use 1040.

Things to keep in mind before deciding to use 1040A:

If you use it, you must take the standard deduction of about 10 per cent for all personal expenses which are deductible like interest on the house mortgage, state taxes, charitable contributions, and so on.

Anyone with such deductions greater than 10 per cent of his income will usually lose money using 1040A. Instead, use 1040 where, although you'll have to itemize your deductions in order to claim them, you can claim all you're entitled to.

There are certain ways of reducing your tax by using 1040 that you can't use if you file your return on 1040A. For instance:

You can't on 1040A (but can on 1040) deduct for sick pay paid by your employer. Nor can you on 1040A claim to be head of a household, a special status which gives you a smaller tax than you could obtain filing as a single person. You can't on 1040A (but can on 1040) claim credit for retirement pay. You can't use 1040A at all if during 1958 you paid an estimated tax on your income.

Everyone who got dividends on stock of most domestic corporations can knock off the first $50 of them. You can do that on both 1040 and 1040A. On 1040 you work out the $50 deduction on page 3, schedule A.

On 1040A you simply write in the amount of dividend payment you have left after subtracting $50, but — there's another break on dividends that you can get on 1040 but can't on 1040A.

This is it: After you've deducted the first $50 of your dividends you can deduct from your tax four per cent of the value of the dividends above the first $50. There are places for doing that on 1040.

There's no place for it on 1040A.

This year the Internal Revenue Service is particularly checking on expense accounts. On both 1040A and 1040 you're asked if you charged business expenses to your employer and whether he paid you for them.

If you got back from him all you paid out of your pocket for expenses, and no more, that's all. But if your expenses were less than the boss paid you for them, the difference is income and must be reported as part of your income.

You have to report that difference as part of your income as "excess reimbursements" on line five, page one of 1040. You can't do this on 1040A. Therefore, in this case you couldn't use 1040A.

Despite 1040A's small size, a husband and wife can file a joint return on it, even though the wife had no income or, if she did, if their combined income was under $10,000 and they fit the requirements given above for using 1040A.

Also on 1040A you can claim your exemptions.

If you use 1040A—and your income was under $5,000—you can figure your tax by using the tax-table on the back of the instruction sheet which the Internal Revenue Service sends every taxpayer. If you don't have it, get it.

But if your income was under $5,000 and you're using 1040A, you don't have to figure your tax, if you don't want to. Just answer the questions, send it to your local IRS director and let him figure it out.

Then he'll send you a bill if you still owe some tax or a refund if he finds you paid too much tax during the year.

If your income was over $5,000 but under $10,000 — and you're using 1040A — you must compute your own tax from the tax-rate schedule on the instruction sheet.

In this case, if you find you still owe tax, you must send your IRS director a check. If you've overpaid your tax in 1958, he'll send you a refund.

If you have to use 1040 but your income was $5,000 and your deductions were under 10 per cent — if they were, of course, you don't have to itemize them — you can figure your own tax by using the tax-table on the instruction sheet.

But if your taxable income was $5,000 or more — whether you use 1040A or 1040 — you must figure your own tax from the schedule which fits your case in the instruction sheet.

A.P. Death Record

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Kenneth Franzheim, 68, a former president of the American Institute of Architects, died Friday of a heart attack. Franzheim, who had requested that news of his death be withheld until after his funeral, had designed many of Houston's office buildings. He was born in Wheeling, W. Va.

Progress Report on Drive Is Made to Red Cross Board

A progress report on the 1958 Fund Campaign, which continues through the month of March, was one of the important items given attention Monday afternoon, when board members of Warren County Red Cross Chapter held their quarterly meeting in Warren Service Center.

Reporting for Fred Emhardt, general chairman, his assistant, Wendell Peterson, showed deposits to date of $10,228, plus estimated welfare fund pledges and other figures which brought the total to an estimated $16,000, toward a goal of $28,127. Comparison with last year's figures at this time showed the figure just slightly ahead of 1958.

Chairman Robert Dunham conducted the session, with routine reports presented by Miss Irma Eba for the secretary, and Edward Ryberg, the financial report.

In her work as Home Service secretary, Mrs. E. M. Bell reported a total of 142 cases, servicemen, veterans, their families, and civilians, aided at a cost of $385.36.

Mrs. Bell also presented a report of emergency help given in the recent flood, when 10 families were assisted; $1,090.12 was disbursed by National American Red Cross under Mid-Eastern States funds; and total receipts from local donors were $910. Under food and shelter, $29.01 was spent for mass feeding at shelters, with Tasty Bakery donating four dozen doughnuts; emergency food orders, $40; two tons coal, $24; household furnishings, $30.30; building and repair, $588.11; mostly caused by broken pipes; occupational supplies and equipment, $64.70.

There were 25 flood victims fed in shelters at St. Joseph's and Trinity Memorial churches; and at the request of Civil Defense, the Red Cross fed an additional 40 CD and out of town workers who had volunteered their services.

For the Blood Program, 64 pints were reported collected in the recent Sheffield visit. Coming up on the schedule are Bloodmobile visits to Youngsville in April, to Sylvania and Chapter Headquarters in May. Howard Lauffenberger, chairman, filled the board in on Blood Program data on a regional basis.

Mr. Ryberg reported on budget requirements set up last spring and how they are being met to date; Mrs. Harold Baker indicated seven Nurses Aides working regularly at Warren General Hospital; Paul Stein-Kamp reported a senior life saving class completed and 25 certificates issued; prospects for another outdoor class at Chapman Dam this summer, and assistance being given the Chautauque County Retarded Children's Group in a special class he and 12 local instructors will conduct next month.

Under Gene Brown's life saving program, a class has been completed at Youngsville, classes for Civil Defense and Girl Scouts are under way. George Fritts spoke of a Junior Red Cross gift box project in grade schools, promotion of water safety in May, and possibility of a JRC Council set-up for grades four, five and six.

Final business on the agenda was appointment of a nominating committee to report on building and repair, in the June annual meeting. R. E. Sires was named chairman, with Mrs. R. V. Steber and Willis Lundahl.

Oddities in the News

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A 52-year-old political newcomer waited until today, naturally, to announce his candidacy for City Council in the May 19 election. His name? Patrick McGee.

SHAMROCK, Tex. (AP) — This Texas Panhandle city puts away its cowboy hats and boots today for derbies, clay pipes and a touch of green to honor St. Patrick.

The annual March 17th celebration features a street parade with bands, floats and riding clubs from Texas and Oklahoma and a beauty contest to name Miss Irish Rose from the area colleges.

The old country will be represented by Shamrocks flown from Ireland by transatlantic plane.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Liquor tipplers in Oklahoma apparently are quenching their thirst with beer during the state's strict enforcement of whisky prohibition laws.

A report Monday from the State Tax Commission said beer sales zoomed 25 per cent last month over the same month a year ago.

Oklahoma votes to continue or repeal prohibition laws April 7th. For the past two months whisky laws have been enforced with bootleg liquor sales sinking proportionately.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Carl Krider, a woman who hasn't walked for 22 years, has a proud smile on her face. So does her husband.

Mrs. Krider, stricken by polio at the age of 7, gave birth to a 5-pound, 14-ounce baby girl, Kathleen Ann Krider Monday.

Doctors said the baby, delivered by Caesarean section, and Mrs. Krider were doing fine. The baby is their first.

Northern Area Board Acts On 1959-60 Salary Matters

At the regular monthly meeting of Northern Area Joint School Board, Floyd Marsh, personnel committee chairman, presented recommendations concerning 1959-60 salaries for professional and non-professional employees.

Although some salary matters were referred back to the committee for added study, official decisions established standard increment for classroom teachers at the state-mandated $200 per teacher for a 180 day basis, but authorization was given to lengthening teacher - contract year to 184 days with proper salary adjustment. This permits an uninterrupted 180 class day schedule needed for eventual evaluation of elementary and high schools for association accreditation.

Resulting from a report from Benton Baird, chairman of the ways and means committee, approval was granted senior members to take an educational trip to Washington, D. C., April 8 through April 12, with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garner as chaperones.

Chester Anderson, health and athletic committee chairman, presented recommendations on a proposed schedule of track, football and basketball events, drawn up by athletic director, Fred Bauer, was adopted. The following were authorized to serve as coaches during the year: Athletic director, Fred Bauer; Noreg Luvison, head football coach; Mr. Bauer, assistant; John Binney, John Lashinger, Junior high school football; John Binney, head basketball coach; Richard St. Clair, assistant; James Hedman, junior high basketball; Dorm Howlett and Mr. Hedman, track.

It was also decided to permit 12th grade students to function as ticket takers with John Neese, faculty member, to assume responsibility for ticket sales as well as accounting and depositing all athletic receipts for the board.

The School's administration was empowered to investigate the availability of government funds to be used in a complete school survey and plan development and the Ways and Means committee instructed to investigate.

ing would be useful. Monday night Eisenhower was still putting a foreign ministers get-together preliminary to a summit meeting.

Then he said: "Assuming developments justify a summer meeting at the summit, the United States (meaning Eisenhower, himself) would be ready to participate in this further effort."

Some may read into that sentence — since it omitted direct mention of a need for advance progress—a softening in his attitude and a greater readiness to meet at the summit even if the foreign ministers accomplish nothing.

But elsewhere in his speech he said: "The United States and its allies stand ready to talk with Soviet representatives at any time and under any circumstances which offer prospects of worthwhile results."

That doesn't look like much of a softening.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Supervisors of Pleasant Township, Warren County, Pennsylvania have prepared a proposed budget for said Township for the fiscal year 1959 and that said budget is available for public inspection at the office of the secretary, R. D. Arnold, 20 Hillview Drive, Warren, Pa., for a period of 20 days following the date of this notice. After making such revisions as appear advisable after the expiration of the said 20 days, the said Supervisors intend to adopt the budget at their next meeting thereafter.

gate services of designated, insurance agencies should one be appointed as official broker for the school system. The committee was also asked to conclude purchase of additional insurance coverage.

Travers Stohberg, building committee chairman, reported details of conversion of the school boiler to gas almost completed as well as revamping of electrical service and wiring at Lander Elementary School. Additional fire extinguishers, demanded in a recent state inspection, have been purchased and will be installed. It was directed to conduct Penn State regarding procurement of a landscape planning service to be used for Eisenhower School lawns. Announcement was made that the county Civil Defense office had stored a 200 bed emergency hospital unit in the school building for storage and use there if circumstances mandate.

A letter from W. I. Bevan, of the Department of Public Instruction, was read by Charles Peterson, transportation committee chairman, and indicated there is no school law provision requiring a school board to advertise for bids for school bus service. It was his recommendation the local school board negotiate with some reliable person and refer subsequent contract with the Department for approval. It was decided that present bus contracts be renewed for three years where possible and a fair price obtained. In the case of additional bus routes or if present contractor does not bid again, other submitted bids will be accepted. Contract renewal for three years was granted Laverne and Gail Decker for Athletic and special transportation.

Payment of $881.32 for added 4177 miles of bus route was also authorized, as well as bills totaling $3002.26 for elementary school and $5755.40 for secondary school. Receipts included: $1763.04 federal reimbursement for vocational agriculture classes; $590.00 of same for home economics courses and $168.00 for adult home economic evening classes. It was also reported that official reimbursement fraction used in determining state aid had been received by each member district.

Subsequent to adjournment of the board's session, regular meetings were conducted by Farmington township and Sugar Grove Union boards. The next monthly session is April 8.

Wrightsville Man In Race for Commissioner

—Kofod Studio

Frank S. Darrow, above, of Wrightsville, RD 1, Pittsfield, has announced his candidacy for the office of County Commissioner, subject to the decision of Republican voters at the Primary Election, May 19, of this year.

Mr. Darrow has owned and operated a wholesale and retail lumber mill in Wrightsville since 1936. In addition to this, he has operated the Darrow Hardware in Sugar Grove for the past four years, as the John Deere and Massey-Harris Furgeson dealer.

Mr. Darrow has been active in Republican circles for many years, serving as a township supervisor for the past eight years. He is well known throughout the county, particularly by those engaged in Warren County's dairy farming.

In announcing his candidacy for County Commissioner, Mr. Darrow stated, "I will endeavor to fulfill this important position in every way. Any consideration given in this coming Primary will be gratefully appreciated."

END OF A REIN—An old coach, pulled by two white horses, was used for the first horseback retirement ceremony in 20 years at Fort Myer, Va. It honored Chief Warrant Officer Philip A. Sellers, seated at right rear. The unusual honor was staged as Sellers, the Army's last commander of mounted troops, left the service after nearly 30 years.

IMAGINE!—A long and happy married life seems assured for Huguette Legrand and Albert Beccard (couple second from left) at their wedding in Aire sur la Lys, France. They're posing with the bride's parents (left), who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary; her maternal grandparents, who marked their 50th, and her great-grandparents, their 75th.

WOW!—Marvin Miller, well known as Michael Anthony on TV's weekly "Millionaire" show, should enjoy his work in Hollywood. He's posing with four "Miss Universe" contestants who'll appear with him. Left to right are: Lihane Taclesmans (Miss Belgium), Lisa Simone (Miss France), Gerri Hoo (Miss Hawaii) and Mary Ford (Miss Minnesota).

STRAWS AND STRIPES—A sunbonnet look marks this high-crowned cloche of magnolia white Bali straw for spring and summer. The Mr. John Jr. hat is widely banded and bowed with colored striped ribbon.

DIGGING IN—Some of the residents of Stuttgart-Muchhausen, Germany, are living dangerously these days as workers dig a deep hole to relocate the sewage canal. In order to prevent damage to the homes above, construction crews are using small explosive charges in blasting a tunnel beneath the street.

POT AND PANDA—Chi Chi, a panda in London, England, seems to feel its goose is cooked as it huddles in that outdoor barrel tub. The popular star of the London Zoo is mournfully awaiting an unwanted bath.

ICE FRINGE—Some giant icicles reach almost to the ground as they frame the picture window of a home in Aspen, Colo. The ground is covered with four feet of snow, good news for skiers who crowd the old mining town in winter months.

SPRING IS NEAR—Some toy doll houses have spent the winter in this topsy-turvy fashion, but they're now being taken out of storage at Wuppertal, Germany. The tiny houses are not for children, however; they belong to a zoo and serve as background for the zoo's guinea pigs in their outdoor playground.

SMALL STYLE—A striped cotton smock tops a no-iron white cotton dress. The modern adaptation of the old-fashioned pinafore has an Empire yoke. The lavender and white smock buttons down the front.

HIS TO KEEP—Artist Kyril Vassilev is standing beside his 30-year-old painting of Pope John XXIII in Milwaukee, Wis. He made it in Sofia, Bulgaria, when the Pope was Archbishop Angelo Roncalli, and Papal representative to the Bulgarian court.

AROUND THE WORLD

SUNSHINE AND SHADE—The shadows of a picket fence provide a contrast with the new medical building under construction at the University of Vermont, in Burlington. This million dollar building is the first phase of a proposed seven to eight million dollar medical building, part of the school's College of Medicine.

SPRING CLEANING—The American Banner Lines S.S. Atlantic looms over the walls of a dry dock in Brooklyn, N. Y., as she gets her first overhaul since going into service last June. She's the only American-flag passenger ship on the North Atlantic run designed principally for tourist class travel, with 40 in first class and 860 in tourist.

FRAMED—Lines of turbo-prop propellers dramatically frame some C-130 Hercules transports which line the runway at the U.S. Air Base in Evreux, France. The big planes are attached to the U.S. 322nd Air Division at the base. The Air Division, which recently celebrated its fifth birthday, serves an area five times greater than the U.S.

Moore Approaches His Second Scoring Title

MONTREAL (AP) —A zephyr-like drive in the past month has taken Montreal's Dickie Moore to the threshold of his second straight National Hockey League scoring title, according to statistics released today.

At the same time, linemate Jean Beliveau has teamed to make the Montreal Canadiens even tougher to beat in the upcoming Stanley Cup playoffs, despite the absence of injured Maurice (Rocket) Richard and Bernie Geoffrion.

Logart Is Edged By Scott in a Corking Fight

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A warmup fight turned out to be a roast for welterweight contender Isaac Logart.

Charley Scott, a virtual unknown from Philadelphia and a 3-1 underdog, made things too hot for sleek Isaac at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night. The rangy 22-year-old edged Logart 25, by split decision in a sizzling 10-rounder.

Matchmaker-promoter Teddy Brenner said he planned to have them clash in a return bout at St. Nick's within a month. Scott, the 1,406 fans who paid $3,083 undoubtedly will be back for another helping. It was a corking scrap.

The officials split on the verdict and so did the ringside critics. Referee Mark Conn, who had little to do in the ring but get out of the way, had Scott a big winner, 6-2 on rounds. Judge Joe Eppy had it 5-4-1 for Scott. Judge Joe D'Onofrio's score was 5-4-1 for Logart. The AP card had Logart ahead, 5-4-1. A quick poll of the ringside showed a 3-2 margin for Scott.

Scott's victory was his third of the year and boosted his record to 22-9. Logart's record is 55-11-7. Logart, 3-7, weighed 146½ lbs., Scott weighed 147.

Giant Fugitive Wants $12,000 To Sign for Season

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
The strange case of Ramon Monzant took on a bright green hue today.

Monzant has taken up his strike placard and turned up the cucigels of the anti-tax fanatics.

The San Francisco Giant pitcher, a fugitive from spring training camp holed out in Venezuela, has decided he would like to play major league baseball this season.

The right-hander, who compiled an 8-11 record in the 1958 campaign, said Monday the Giants could have his services if they meet his salary demands.

Ramon recently said he was fed up with baseball, having already wasted six unprofitable years in this country's favorite pastime, and was tossing away his resin bag. No amount of money, he said, could force him to reconsider his retirement plans.

The tempestuous Latin now wants $12,000 with $5,000 of that to be sent to him in advance—tax free.

Monzant's demands were voiced on a slow day for exhibitions. Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati 4-1 and Kansas City dumped Detroit 6-0 in the only games played. The other teams were either idle or rained out.

Ted Kluszcwski turned on his old teammates, cracking a home run and single for the Pirates. Big Klu's 390-foot homer against the Reds was his first of the year. Vernon Law and rookie Jim Harrison limited Cincinnati to three hits.

Two home runs and the combined five-hit pitching of Ned Garver and Walt Craddock brought the A's to the 500 mark in the exhibition standings. Rookie Kent Handley and Roger Maris powered the homers. It was Maris' first hit in 19 trips.

NYU Scheduled To Meet Oklahoma in Garden Tonight

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—"Circle the wagons, boys, the Redskins are coming."

Nope, it's not another TV-Western. It's the rallying cry of the New York University basketball team tonight at Madison Square Garden.

NYU plays Oklahoma City University in the quarter-finals of the National Invitation Tournament and the Oklahomaans have two full blooded Indians in their lineup.

They are Fred Yeahquo and Bud Sahmaunt, cousins from the Kiowa tribe. Without them, says Oklahoma City Coach Abe Lemons, his team might not be able to beat a rug.

Real Battle on For Buc-First Base Spot

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Ted Kluszcwski, Dick Stuart and Rocky Nelson are fighting quite a battle to land the starting berth at first base for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

So far in exhibition play, Stuart has had six hits in 18 times at bat, including a home run and three runs batted in. Kluszcwski has four hits in 12 times at bat, including a round-tripper and three runs batted in. Nelson has four hits in 11 times at bat with two runs batted in.

Muscular Kluszcwski had his big day Monday in Pittsburgh's 4-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds with a single, a home run and two runs batted in.

Members of Hall of Fame To See Action at ABC

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Three members of bowling's hall of fame will see action in the open team division of the 56th annual American Bowling Congress Tournament tonight.

Hank Marino, Harry Steers and Herb Lange will roll for the White Tower Team of Watertown, Wis. Fred Thoma and Eli Marich are the other members of the quintet.

All five have won at least one ABC championship. Marino was named "bowler of the half century" by the Bowling Writers Assn.

Another strong challenger scheduled to roll tonight is the Mando Photo team of St. Paul, Minn.

Pfeiffers of Detroit has led the open team division since Feb. 25 when the team rolled a record 3243.

Monday, Gene Vetrone took over second place in the all-events division with 1961 for nine games. Vetrone of Newark, N. J., rolled 539 in team play Sunday night and had 714 in the doubles and 633 in the singles.

Ed Lubanski, captain of the Pfeiffers team, leads the all-events with 2116. He also tops the singles with 764.

In the singles, Jack Reuther of Wheeling, W. Va., rolled a 727 series and gained third place. Reuther had games of 256, 227 and 244.

There was no change in the standings of the top 10 in the open team, booster team and doubles divisions.

Moore Approaches His Second Scoring Title

MONTREAL (AP) —A zephyr-like drive in the past month has taken Montreal's Dickie Moore to the threshold of his second straight National Hockey League scoring title, according to statistics released today.

At the same time, linemate Jean Beliveau has teamed to make the Montreal Canadiens even tougher to beat in the upcoming Stanley Cup playoffs, despite the absence of injured Maurice (Rocket) Richard and Bernie Geoffrion.

Logart Is Edged By Scott in a Corking Fight

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A warmup fight turned out to be a roast for welterweight contender Isaac Logart.

Charley Scott, a virtual unknown from Philadelphia and a 3-1 underdog, made things too hot for sleek Isaac at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night. The rangy 22-year-old edged Logart 25, by split decision in a sizzling 10-rounder.

Matchmaker-promoter Teddy Brenner said he planned to have them clash in a return bout at St. Nick's within a month. Scott, the 1,406 fans who paid $3,083 undoubtedly will be back for another helping. It was a corking scrap.

The officials split on the verdict and so did the ringside critics. Referee Mark Conn, who had little to do in the ring but get out of the way, had Scott a big winner, 6-2 on rounds. Judge Joe Eppy had it 5-4-1 for Scott. Judge Joe D'Onofrio's score was 5-4-1 for Logart. The AP card had Logart ahead, 5-4-1. A quick poll of the ringside showed a 3-2 margin for Scott.

Scott's victory was his third of the year and boosted his record to 22-9. Logart's record is 55-11-7. Logart, 3-7, weighed 146½ lbs., Scott weighed 147.

Drastic Changes Proposed in Gun Owning, Buying

Pennsylvania Game Commission today urged all news outlets to "do everything possible to defeat" a proposed Senate bill concerning drastic control of possessing firearms of all types, including rifles and shotguns.

Sparked by a radio editorial campaign over radio station WPM, Philadelphia, a group of state legislators headed by Senate Minority Leader Charles Weiner, will introduce a Bill in the State Legislature today aimed at tighter control over the sale and possession of firearms of all types.

Among the major revisions of the existing Act included in the legislation proposed today are such provisions as:

Requirement of a permit to possess or carry, not only revolvers and pistols, but rifles and shotguns; no gun, regardless of size, to be taken in pledge by pawnshops or other lending organizations; all applicants for permits will have to supply photographs and fingerprints to be checked by state police and in Washington; requirement of a permit to keep a gun received as a gift or through inheritance; all firearms now owned, or obtained in the future, to be registered.

To crack down on purchase of guns by mail order, proposed law requires the applicant to have a permit, and to sign his application for purchase of a firearm in the presence of the dealer.

Violation of the new Firearms Act will be punishable by a fine of up to $5,000, up to five years imprisonment, or both.

Thousands of petitions have flooded radio station WPM in Philadelphia at its offices at 2212 Walnut street.

William B. Caskey, executive of the station, commenting on the public response to the campaign, expressed hope that "other radio stations and communication media will join this crusade to strengthen the hand of democratic authority in the relentless battle against crime."

Youngsville, Gaughns Hit Boards For First Wins in YMCA Memorial Play

Youngsville and Gaughns' Drug teams posted memorial tournament wins in Warren YMCA Monday evening. Youngsville appeared to have a strong outfit, which may be capable of giving the tourney play plenty of trouble.

Warren Components will go against Northern Area tonight at 8:15 in YMCA in the third game of the Don Lundquist memorial play.

Warren High School Juniors were defeated by Youngsville in a see-saw affair, 70-63. The locals held a one-point edge end of first, Youngsville holding a one-point lead at the half. WHS Juniors fought back to pull ahead in third quarter by a 5 point bulge. In final minutes of play, Youngsville quintet bombarded away to outshoot the local cagers.

Spear's shooting led the Youngsville team to victory, with 16 points. Dick White paced both squads with 22 points.

Gaughns' Drug had to come from behind to whip Tidoute 53-40, after being down 13-5 end of first stanza. Tidoute led by one point at intermission. Third quarter and a big final canto iced the contest for Tidoute.

Hartnett's 22 points paced Gaughns' drive while McKean sank 15 to spearhead Tidoute's attack.

Hurricane's Mother Says: "He Can Still Be a Fighter"

Mrs. Georgia Jackson and Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson

By JOHN MORRISSEY
NEW YORK—Mrs. Georgia Jackson smoothed her gray skirt and sat on the edge of a stuffed chair and talked about what seems to be her one aim in life. It's to have her son, Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, fight for a living even though everybody says he stands a chance of being severely injured, if not killed, in the ring.

"They suspended Tommy 15 months ago," she was saying. "Said he had a heart murmur. I've had him examined by all kinds of doctors. Look at this." She held out the result of a cardiograph test she said her son had taken. "See those lines? Nothing wrong with Tommy. Doctor should know. That boy is in good health. He can fight."

This was in the living room of Jackson's two-story home in St. Albans, a New York suburb. It is a house probably paid for with the money Tommy received the night he stumbled around the ring, pathetic and defenseless, while Floyd Patterson hacked at him until he was finally taken away to a hospital.

Tommy had one more fight after that, against Eddie Machen. He couldn't even hold up his hands and when the referee stopped it every boxing commission in the country banned Jackson.

If hard-bitten boxing feels Tommy is better off out of the ring, why is it that his mother still wants him in it?

Maybe she thinks about the house she lived in not too long ago. It was in a run-down section of Far Rockaway, N. Y., and on a hot summer day an open truck would come down the street. It would be loaded with uniced fish. The people could buy them cheap. Who ever used to license the guy to sell them belonged in jail.

"There just ain't any money," his mother said. "The most Tommy ever got was when he fought Patterson. By the time taxes and expenses were paid there wasn't much left."

"Tommy just has to fight. There's no other way for him. They took the only job he knew away from him. What's he supposed to do now?"

Time after time, Patterson's right hand punches were a gleaming blur under the ring lights as they landed with frightening impact on Tommy's face. Machen threw left hooks to the body, the kind that jumble your insides for life, into Jackson whenever he pleased.

But Mrs. Georgia Jackson wants to send her son back. Each day he wakes up and does roadwork and then goes to Stillman's Gymnasium where he trains. He hopes to get a fight. He had one with a preliminary fighter in Sherbrooke, Canada, and won it. But now the commission up there has decided to go with everybody else and bar him.

Tommy was out on the sunporch, as his mother talked. He was staring out the window, moodily.

He went outside as a group of laughing kids moved down the street. Tommy smiled. He shouted and waved at them.

"Let them play, Tommy," his mother said from the doorway.

Tommy watched them until they disappeared around the corner. He was disappointed that the kids hadn't heard him and stopped. He is 27 years old, but he is still a little boy at heart.

His mother thinks of him as a fighter.

Kinzua Dam Could Have Saved $3.5 In Flood Damages

Minutes from Pennsylvania Public Works Meeting in Harrisburg Feb. 26 suggested that if the Kinzua Dam had been in operation during January's flooding, it could have saved $3.5 million in damages. The minutes, just received by Warren County Commissioners, also note that Governor David L. Lawrence urged early appropriation of construction funds for the local reservoir.

Many from Warren were planning to attend the meeting, including County Commissioners, when they learned the session would not be opened to the public.

Gov. Lawrence reported on the impact of the floods to others present, including Maurice Goddard, Senators Clark and Scott, members of House of Representatives, Mayor Thomas Gallagher of Pittsburgh, Congressman Michale J. Kirwan of Ohio and aides.

Governor Lawrence emphasized importance of flood control works to Pennsylvania's industrial development program and urged action on six specific projects, including appropriation of construction funds for Kinzua Dam.

Brig. Gen. J. L. Person, assistant chief of Engineers for Civil Works listed an estimated total federal cost for Kinzua Dam The figure was $113,000,000. There was no 1960 budget request on the proposed cost because of pending litigation.

General Person reported that recent floods arose from a heavy rainfall within a 24-hour period. On the Allegheny, damages are estimated at $6.4 million, but existing reservoirs prevented an additional $6 million damages. If Kinzua had been in operation, the report said, it would have prevented $3.5 million in damages. In Meadville the ice gorge caused damage estimated at $2.5 million. (This was the only successful dynamiting of an ice gorge that Person has ever witnessed.)

Congressman Leon H. Gavin emphasized necessity of Kinzua Dam and asked whether the Corps could not use $5 or $10 for construction. He raised the question of an effort to remove provision in last year's conference report which prevents the Corps from doing any construction while litigation is pending. Senator Clark suggested that the meeting might set a precedent for other gatherings. Governor Lawrence agreed and re-emphasized the importance of flood control projects to our industrial development program.

Madden Continues His Record Smashing Swim

Slippery Rock's "Rocket Men" splashed to second place in State Teacher's College Conference first annual swimming championships Saturday. The meet was won by West Chester who have now won 17 consecutive meets.

Pat Madden participated in the championships, swimming in 400-yard medley relay, which broke pool and school record in establishing a meet record of 4:11.5. This is the fastest time 400-yard medley has been swum in Pennsylvania in a 20-yard pool.

On the relay Madden swam breast stroke leg with a 1:10.0 clocking. Madden also took second in 200-yard butterfly evening, 2:37.9, breaking his own pool time of 2:38.0. The former local "fish" took third in 200-yard breaststroke, and ended up the only triple medal winner for Slippery Rock.

Thursday and Friday, Madden will be in Muncie, Indiana, competing in small college national championships. Any splashes placing in top six is awarded small-college All-American for the season.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

NEW YORK (AP)—Sinclair Oil Corp. and British Petroleum Co., Ltd., formed Sinclair & BP Sales, Inc., to handle their sales of Middle Eastern and Venezuelan crude oil in the Western Hemisphere.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pennsylvania Railroad ordered from Servo Corp. 20 infra-red devices which automatically stop trains with "hot box," or overheated bearing, trouble. The cost of the order was not disclosed.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—General Electric Co. will allow television stations to lease TV studio equipment.

Under the plan, GE noted broadcasters can use up-to-date equipment without a large outlay of cash. Rentals will be on a monthly basis.

TODAY'S WOMEN

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
A woman with a job can face whatever fate deals out, says Mollie Parnis, a woman with a job. For 23 years, Mollie and her husband, Leon J. Livingston, carried on a highly successful dress manufacturing business in New York. Mollie did the designing and Leon handled the business end. One of their most famous customers was Mamie Eisenhower.

Then, not quite a year ago, Mollie walked into her husband's office and found him dead of a heart attack. For Mollie, it seemed the end of the world. This was a closer association than most marriages: not only husband and wife, but also business partners.

So Mollie closed up one of the biggest dress businesses in the country, and stayed home with her grief and her memories. "I was completely lost," says the attractive, talented designer. "I felt I couldn't go on without Leon, and yet I couldn't find anything to fill up the days when I didn't have work to do. There is nothing worse than waking up in the morning with nobody to talk to and nothing to do."

Mollie Parnis missed only one collection. Now she is back doing business at the old stand, looking her old vital self. She has a new business partner, Adolph Klein, who guided the destinies of the late Claire McCordell, and who is continuing his own manufacturing business while also managing business details for Mollie.

"Life has to go on," says Mollie. "I never realized how lucky I was to have a job until I gave it up. Now that I'm back in business I never want to quit again until they carry me out."

"I think the greatest gift a woman can have is an absorbing interest of her own. It will see her through the rough spots that come in every life. And the saddest thing in the world is a woman with no outside interests, who suddenly becomes a widow. She has spent her life just being a wife, and now she no longer has a job."

Hollywood News

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There was Julia Meade looking as chic as ever, but she wasn't selling brownies or automobiles.

As a matter of fact, she was engaged in a passionate love scene with Rock Hudson. Heavens to Ed Sullivan!

Television's ace salesgirl is in the Hollywoods to make her first movie, "Any way the Wind Blows," starring Hudson. Doris Day and Tony Randall. Although she seems a little lost without a product to pitch, she's doing a fine job.

She managed to work it out by commuting to the East on weekends. She's delighted with the work, as what red-blooded American girl wouldn't be?

Her work on commercials is less romantic, but also satisfying, she indicated. "When it was first proposed to me six years ago," she said, "I was hesitant at first. It didn't seem to me the kind of thing I wanted to do as an actress. But I decided to give it a try. I had been working pretty steadily in TV and plays, but I had never really scored with anything. And there was always that worry about what role I would get next week."

"I'm glad I took the job. The money was good (reportedly $100,000 a year), and I was helped as an actress. When I went out to do summer stock, my name meant something, and I could get better salaries."

"The work has taken me to Europe and other parts of the world that I might never have seen. And I find doing the commercials is a challenge. I prepare for them just as I would for an acting role."

Unlike Marv Costa, Betty Furness and other pitchwomen, Julia has never had any serious boos on TV. That's due to her excellent memory and foresight.

"When the stage is cleared 30 seconds before I go on, I always check everything — that the car doors aren't locked and the gadgets are working," she explained.

Recognition of Membership Gain Made by Scouts

In recognition of membership gain in 1958, Pacemaker Citations were presented at the Chief Complanter Council, Boy Scouts of America, to Field Executive Dick Bauer, organization and extension chairman, James Wright, past-president, C. R. Betts, and Scout Executive Elmer Morgan.

In making the presentation at the United Reining Company Office building, President Bloomquist read from the citation, "In recognition of the efficient administration of the Program of Scouting in his area of service, as revealed in the expanded number of Scouting units and further evidenced in the qualitative aspects of his work reflected in an improved tenure of existing units, this Certificate of Membership Pacemaker is respectfully presented."

Field Executive Dick Bauer was also presented with his Basic training certificate by Scout Executive Morgan. In making the presentation, Mr. Morgan stated the certificate represented 25 years of post graduate study and on-the-job experience, and is the first of three degrees in the training program for scout executives.

Special committee appointments included: Insurance, Bill Hill, chairman, John Hickey, Ed Koebly, Hugh Logan and James Bloomquist; committee to arrange a reception for the new Scout Executive, Duane Wilder, chairman, Santo Fafale, and Hon. Alexander C. Flick, Jr.; Golden Jubilee Chairman, Robert Anstadt; Jamboree Chairman, Karl Tumm.

WINTER COMEBACK

Spring ain't sprung yet. Just as we had relaxed, feeling cheerful and happy over Associated Press weather bulletins that forecast clear weather, it happened! At eleven o'clock this morning a blizzard, the kind you read about but seldom see, visited the borough, and all but halted traffic on street and sidewalk. Only thing we can figure, since the Associated Press could hardly be that far off, is, sons and daughters of Erin, celebrating St. Patrick's Day, did the Irish jig so vigorously, they jarred loose the universe, and the snow came tumblin' down.

Eastern Half of Nation Enjoying Dry-Cool Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dry and fairly cool weather prevailed in most of the eastern half of the nation today in the wake of snow, rain and wind storms.

Skies also were clear from the Rockies westward to the Pacific Coast, with a general warming trend reported in most areas.

There were a few wet spots. Moderate to heavy rain fell in most sections of Florida. The wet belt extended into southern Georgia and the Carolina coast and eastern Louisiana. Showers sprinkled parts of the western Gulf.

Light snow spread eastward from southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois across Indiana and lower Michigan and headed into the Northeast. Falls were generally from one to two inches.

The weekend storms were blamed for at least 11 deaths while seven other persons died from heart attacks induced by overexertion in the heavy snow. Fires, one of winter's major hazards, killed 43 persons. Heaviest snows were in the Midwest while gale-like winds whipped sections of the midcontinent and into the Northeast.

Ohio Fugitive Charge For Warren Resident

Authorities from Jefferson, Ohio, are expected to arrive in Warren Wednesday to return a 37-year-old Warren man to Jefferson to face fugitive from justice charges there.

State Police at the Warren station were contacted by the sheriff in Jefferson and asked to pick up Paul L. Miller. The Ohio authorities said Miller was wanted on an auto larceny charge.

Miller, found at the home of his mother at 1205 1/2 Pennsylvania avenue west, is in Warren County Jail today in waiting for his return to Jefferson. He is alleged to have stolen a car in that city on March 7. The auto has been recovered.

JET Families To Confer Tonight With Sponsors

Families participating in the coming Experiment in International Living are asked to meet with the Jaycee committee this evening at 8:00 in Room 4 of the YMCA.

Jaycee Chairman David Swanson reports final plans for meeting the young foreign executives will be reviewed. The program of group activities that has been arranged for the young men by the Jaycees will be announced to the families, also.

Under this Junior Executive Training program, sponsored by the Experiment in International Living and the Jaycees, Warren will play host to nine young foreign executives from Germany, Switzerland, Holland and Italy. The primary objective of the program is to provide the visitors with an opportunity to observe American life as a member of an American family group.

Warren families, each of which will "adopt" one of the visitors for the three-week period, include: Mr. and Mrs. Merle Kremer, Mr. and Mrs. Claire Proulx, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeFrees, Dr. and Mrs. Albert Eberly, Dr. and Mrs. James Valone, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lanman, Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Weiler, Mr. and Mrs. Beyer Africa.

According to Swanson, the young Europeans will arrive in Warren Sunday evening, March 22, about 8:00, and the Jaycees are arranging an appropriate reception for them on Monday, March 23. The Jaycees are also arranging a program which will enable the visitors to observe typical American industries, business and institutions. Details of this group program will be announced later.

tion of surplus anticipated may reduce the time to 32 or 34 years if bonds are called out.

School districts represented in the Warren Area Joint Board were advised as to required rental payments to be paid by them: Warren borough, $65,585; Clarendon, $5,414; Conewango, $17,462; Elk, $1,390; Glade, $8,250; Kinzua, $3,003; Mead, $7,836; Pleasant, $7,837 and Watson, $708, totaling $117,495 plus state payments of $70,407 or $187,912, more than the listed rental figure in the bonding firm's report.

All school districts readily voted to accept Singer, Dean and Scribner's offer with the exception of Pleasant township which was not represented by quorum. However, the Warren Area High School Authority, advised by Solicitor R. Pierson Eaton, voted aye thus clearing the way for immediate action on the huge bond issue. Warren Borough School Board approved that the site property for the proposed high school building be immediately conveyed to the Authority with the Joint Board directed to request the Department of Public Instruction to proceed with the business at hand.

The budget for 1959-1960 was presented and unanimously approved by joint board representatives with total expenditures listed at $1,071,333, an increase over last year's figures of about $77,000. The stepped up costs are largely due to expenses of instruction including higher teachers' salaries. Cost to districts is $785,192.91.

Officers re-elected for the current school year were: M. G. Keller, president; N. W. Grosch, vice president; R. M. Smith, secretary and M. E. Jewell, treasurer.

Alden A. Stearns, above, 59 year old resident of Sugar Grove and active figure in American Legion affairs on local, district and state levels, died in Erie Veterans' Hospital at 5:35 a. m. Monday after an illness extending over some months.

Funeral services will be held at 2:00 p. m. Thursday in Sugar Grove Presbyterian church, conducted by the Rev. Stuart Perrin, of First Presbyterian church of Kane, assisted by the Rev. David Vennberg, of Sugar Grove Mission Covenant church. Interment will follow in the Wesleyan cemetery.

Alden Allen Stearns was born February 24, 1900 in Sugar Grove, a son of Charles and Mary Skinner Stearns. He was a rural mail carrier in Sugar Grove for 23 years, and a member of the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association. An Army veteran of World War I, he was a charter member and organizer of Sugar Grove American Legion Post 738, and a member of its "40 and 8" Club. He was a past commander of American Legion District 28 and was presently holding office as deputy commander and vice chairman of the membership committee of the District. He had served the Sugar Grove Post as commander on two different occasions.

Surviving are his wife, Hazel, to whom he was married 39 years ago in Sugar Grove; five daughters, Mrs. Lucy Norlander, Jamestown; Mrs. Esther Thompson, Barker, N. Y.; Mrs. Helen Clark, Mrs. Ruth Thompson, Mrs. Edna Mae Thorpe, all of Sugar Grove; two brothers, Fennell Stearns, Berwyn, Ill., and Merton Stearns, Cambridge Springs; also 20 grandchildren.

C. A. DANIELSON

Carl Albert Danielson, 6 Jefferson avenue, died at his home at 11:30 a. m. Monday at the age of 66 years.

Dr. Danielson was born in Sweden June 22, 1892, and had resided in Warren for the past 33 years. For the past 10 years, he had been employed as building superintendent for Warren Bank and Trust Company. He was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church and of the S. F. of A. Lodge.

Surviving are his wife, Ebba C. Danielson; two children, Charles D. Danielson, of Woodlawn, N. J., and Mrs. John Anderson, North Syracuse, N. Y.; two grandchildren; one sister, Miss Edla Danielson, in Miami, Fla.

His pastor, the Rev. Carl Nelson, will conduct funeral services at 1:00 p. m. Thursday, with interment following in Oakland cemetery.

MISS IDA BERRY

The Rev. Ralph Findley, pastor of Grace Methodist church, will conduct funeral services at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday for Miss Ida Berry, of Youngsville, who died Sunday at the age of 49 years. Interment will follow in Oakland cemetery.

Miss Berry was born in Clarendon on October 8, 1909, and lived in Warren before going to Youngsville 13 years ago. Surviving here are a sister, Mrs. John Pells, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; and several cousins in this area.

JOHN L. WAGNER

John L. Wagner, 51 year old resident of Sugar Grove RD 3, died at 11:53 p. m. Monday in Warren General Hospital, where he had been admitted only a short time earlier.

Mr. Wagner was born in LaCrosse, Wis., on May 22, 1907, and came to this area from that city 10 years ago. He operated his own farm and was well known in the Sugar Grove area. He was a member of the English Lutheran church in LaCrosse.

Besides his wife, Lelah G. Wagner, he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Lillian Kath, Pasadena, Calif., and Mrs. Luella Kampa, in LaCrosse; also one nephew.

Removal will be made to Mabel, Minn., for services on Friday, followed by interment in the Lutheran cemetery at that place.

Storm Hits Area, Leaves Quickly

Blizzard-like winds and snow darkened the area late this morning to dump about one-quarter inch of snow across the meadows and streets.

The sky which became dark about 10:30, suddenly turned the area into a blackened spot as gushing winds whipped the area for about two minutes, cutting visibility to zero.

The snow left by the freak storm disappeared as a warm, sunny afternoon closed the curtain on the storm, which recalled to mind the famous St. Patrick's Day storm of 1936.

River rose to 7 feet this morning and was expected to crest there. A note of peculiarity was found in the time for rising and setting of the sun. The rising took place at 6:29 a. m., and it will set tonight at 6:29 p. m.

Heavy snow flurries and squalls are expected tonight, partly cloudy and cool Wednesday with occasional snow flurries.

Ike's Stand

American people "now have and will continue to have, a modern, effective and adequate military establishment."

In general, Congress members of both parties backed Eisenhower's declaration of firmness in the Berlin situation. Republicans welcomed, and some Democrats challenged, his assessment of the nation's military strength.

Eisenhower confidently cited the nation's long-range nuclear bomber force, plus 41 types of missiles either in production or under development, as powerful enough to resist communism's challenge, despite domestic critics who are urging him to spend more for defense.

Dominating Eisenhower's speech, however, were 46 words which appeared to move him a carefully measured step along the road to a summit conference. Khrushchev has been urging since last November.

Eisenhower's mention of a possible heads of government meeting, along with his fixing of an approximate date, came just three days before Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was due in town for strategy talks.

Macmillan was reported ready to press Eisenhower for an agreement to convene such a top-level Big Four meeting as the only way to ease European tensions.

The British leader is understood to want a summit meeting regardless of whether a prior foreign ministers conference makes any progress on Germany's future.

Eisenhower implied he disagreed with Macmillan on this. He did not explain what developments he would consider as justifying a summit meeting.

One prominent Western diplomat flatly predicted on the basis of Eisenhower's remarks that a summit conference would be convened in August.

Nicholas Trial Jurors Removed on Challenge

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—What penalty the state will seek against Mrs. Connie Nicholas for the slaying of her married lover outside the apartment of his younger woman friend still was a mystery today.

The state challenged and removed three prospective jurors on the opening day of Mrs. Nicholas' first-degree murder trial Monday when they said they couldn't vote for the death penalty.

But Dep. Prosecutor Judson F. Haggerty told a newsman the action didn't necessarily indicate the prosecution would press for the supreme penalty for the 42-year-old, twice-divorced secretary.

She is charged with the fatal shooting of Forrest Teel, 54, in his white Cadillac outside the apartment of Miss Laura Mowrer last July 31.

Westmoreland Dairies Threaten Milk Strike

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—At least 75 dairy farmers in Westmoreland County are willing to support a proposed milk strike, according to the president of Milk Producers Local 733.

William Diamon said that number of Westmoreland County producers attended a meeting here Monday night and expressed unanimous sentiment for a strike proposal.

The meeting was one in a series scheduled in 20 counties in western Pennsylvania represented by the union. Similar sessions are scheduled tonight at Grove City for Mercer and at Clymer for Indiana County.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty million Americans of Irish descent today will honor St. Patrick, patron saint of their ancestral homeland.

They are very proud—on this day even tearfully proud—of their Irish past although they often know little about it except for one thing. They're sure that, like all Irishmen, they sprang from kungs.

But their history is written in their names.

Hubbard Keavy, a Los Angeles newsman, literary scholar and noted amateur chef, has made a hobby of studying Irish names. Many, he found, reflect Ireland's many foreign would-be conquerors. They are of Norman, Nordic, Celtic, Scottish—yes, even of English origin.

Here are the meanings of some well-known Irish names.

Bacon—The lye pig. Of English—the saints save us—origin.

Ballard—Bald-headed.

Barker—One who stripped trees of bark for the tanner.

Baron—a real baron, or one who put on the airs of a baron.

Bell—From "le bel," meaning beautiful. Originally Norman.

Bowler—The maker of wooden bowls.

Blake—The black from the complexion.

Boyle—From Bog Hill, the highest part of the bog.

Burke—Of the bug, or borough.

Calhoun—Battle-joyful.

Casey—Vigilant, watchful.

Collier—Charcoal burner.

Connolly—Faithful to pledges.

Cooper—Maker of barrels.

Cosgrove—Son of the public crier.

Crosby—Son of the rhymist.

Crag—The rock.

Daly—Holding, or frequenting, assemblies.

Donohoe—A strong warrior.

Devalera—Of Valera, an ancient city in Spain.

Faulkner—Keeper of the falcons.

Ford—The strong. From the Norman, le fort.

Fox—The fox, one of sly or cunning disposition.

Garland—Wearer of a mustache.

French origin.

Keavy—Men with long locks, or foot soldiers.

Kelly—Son of a blind hero.

Kennedy—Helmet-head.

Kilpatrick—Servant of St. Patrick.

McCarey—Son of a bald man.

McGown—Son of the smith.

McGraw—Son of grace, or prosperity.

MacDowell—The black stranger, a name given to the Danes.

O'Brien—From Brian Boru, the great Irish king.

O'Connor—High-willed.

O'Keefe—Beautiful, gentle, noble, loveable.

Sullivan—The bright-eyed one.

To sum it up, Ireland, as a commentator once observed, is "a country that can read its history in its phone book."

ON THE JOB!

A sailor and his wife, en route to his station at Great Lakes, Ill., found a New England Red Cross chapter a friend indeed last summer. On a slippery highway their car and trailer overturned and were badly damaged. While the couple escaped injury, the wallet containing their cash was lost in the wreckage. The Framingham, Mass., Chapter came to their assistance—got them overnight quarters and financed transportation to the wife's family home on Long Island. Also, chapter volunteers made four trips to the accident scene to salvage the couple's possessions and put them in storage.

STREAM SLOWS

The Gulf Stream has a central velocity of five miles per hour when passing through the Florida Strait. Sweeping along the American coast, it grows wider and shallower and diminishes its velocity to about one and one-half miles per hour off the Newfoundland Banks.
